

Lansing Lawmakers Hope To Finish And Return Home Today

LANSING — (P) — The Senate unanimously today approved three weapons against subversive activity.

In rapid order, the chamber passed and sent to the House legislation to create a subversive squad in the state police, to broaden slightly the criminal syndicalism law, and to give the state police and attorney general wide authority to investigate and prosecute subversives.

All bills were drafted by the Senate loyalty committee, but resembled closely measures recommended by Governor Williams.

Authority Shifted
The principal difference between the Senate bills and the governor's were that the state police commissioner was voted almost unlimited authority by the senate to conduct secret investigation and employ secret agents. Williams wanted that authority supervised by the attorney general.

Legislative leaders planned the session's fourth recess since spring while they await a report from the state civilian defense council on Governor Williams' request for $1,300,000 to start building a "living blood bank" of 2,500,000 persons.

Legislative wheels scarcely turned yesterday while appropriations committee struggled with the blood bank plan, the method of financing civilian defense activity and the bills aimed at subversion.

The Senate blew up a storm of partisan debate when Senator Harold D. Ryan (D-Detroit) accused the Republican majority of stalling on the blood bank program.

Time Frittered Away

Senator Colin L. Smith (R-Big Rapids) retorted "The governor of Michigan was alerted last November on civilian defense matters. But what has he done? He has frittered away six months and done nothing until the Korean war came along. The plan submitted to us is not in shape so we can pass on it."

Senator Albert J. Wilkie (D-Iron Mountain) described Smith as "Just a big baloney."

The House appropriation committee endorsed Williams' request for $74,300 to create a state police subversive squad, $30,000 to build a new state guard, $153,645 to train 60 additional state police and $100,000 for civilian defense.

Williams had wanted 18 more state police but the lawmakers said that was too much now.

Anti-Inflation Bill Speeded Up In Congress

Truman To Explain In Fireside Chat

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON — (P) — A Senate-House conference committee hoped to work out final details of a broad anti-inflation bill today and speed it to President Truman before his talk to the nation tomorrow night.

The legislation would arm the president with even more powers than he asked to gear the nation's economy to the Korean fighting and an expanded military program.

Calls for 60 Million
Mr. Truman is expected to outline in his "fireside chat" just what the people can expect in the way of home-front mobilization.

He sent word to Congress yesterday, even while the conference committee was trying to hammer out an agreement on the economic controls measure, that he would need $60,000,000 to begin with for administration of the powers the legislation would give him.

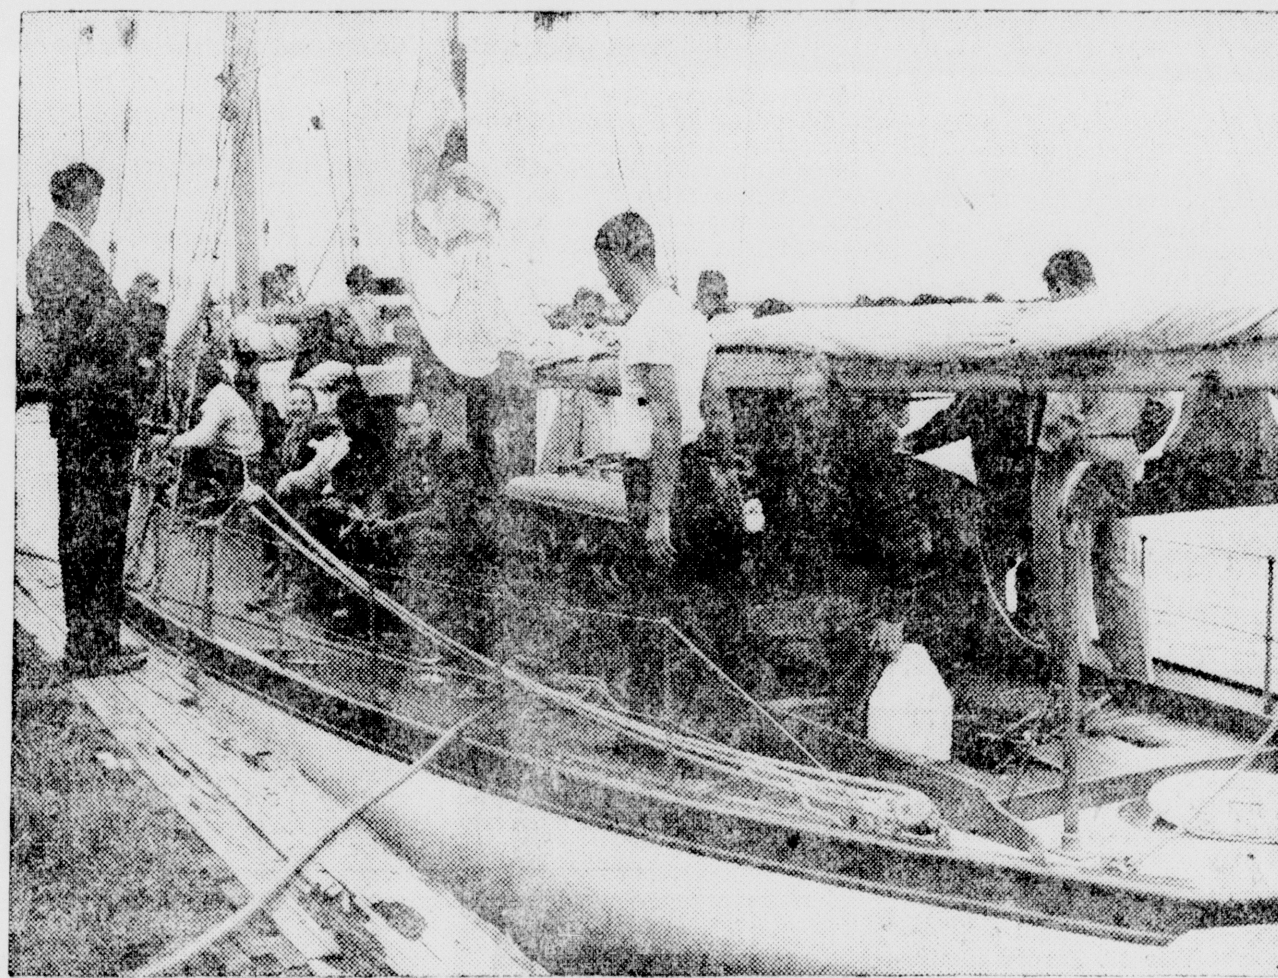

In advance of another meeting of the conferees this morning, Senator Maybank (D-SC) said they had agreed to settle by noon the remaining differences between separate anti-inflation bills passed by the House and the Senate.

Debate Limited

This would allow time for the House and then the Senate to stamp final approval on the compromise Friday unless opposition should develop in the Senate.

Under House rules debate on a conference committee report is limited to one hour but in the Senate it can run on and on.

Reds Start All-Out Offensive In Korea

Pershing Guns Stop 26,000 North Koreans

Warships And Planes Pound Communists

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Friday — (P) — The Korean Reds threw a major two-division assault against the U. S. 25th division in extreme South Korea today.

There were fragmentary reports that the Reds also were heavily attacking the U. S. Second division farther north along the Nakdong river.

Stopped at Pohang

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton reported from the southern front just west of Masan that the North Korean invaders struck before dawn at 15 points after a heavy preparatory barrage.

Fighting was raging today all along that front in what might be the start of a new general Red offensive, Swinton reported.

The new outbreak came as American and South Korean forces on the east anchor of the defenses hurled the Reds back north of the Port of Pohang.

The enemy had tried for two days to crack through to Pohang along the east coast road but General MacArthur's post-midnight summary said they had been driven back within 500 yards of their starting point, about four miles north of Pohang.

The Reds were still firing artillery and mortars in the area of ravaged Kigye, nine miles north-west of Pohang.

Olander May Be Michigan Defense Boss

Rumors Of Lansing Feud Revived

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING — (P) — Governor Williams may appoint Oscar G. Olander, former state police commissioner, to be state civilian defense director.

This report bubbled up today in the wake of a House-Senate feud over who should have the spending of $100,000 for civilian defense operations.

Jobs Too Big

Such a move would supplant the present state police commissioner, Donald S. Leonard, who now is acting civilian defense director and served as full director of that agency during part of World War II. Leonard would continue as state police head.

Senate Republican leaders informally said that Williams had told them he was considering Olander for Leonard's OCD post.

The governor, commenting on the report, declared:

"Even before Leonard was appointed acting director there was some consideration of Olander, but his business didn't permit him to serve at that time. Since there has been no appropriation for civilian defense, Leonard has served in that capacity, in addition to all his other duties.

"As the situation becomes more acute it is apparent that a full time director ought to be appointed. As to Olander or anyone else getting the appointment, until the legislature gets through I don't have any comment."

Back of the report are rumors of tension between Williams and Leonard and the governor's belief that the jobs of state police commissioner and civilian defense director are too big for one man.

Senate Balks

The House-Senate feud yesterday developed this situation, as pieced together from reliable lawmakers:

New York Bids Mayor Goodbye

NEW YORK — (P) — The city will give onetime cop William O'Dwyer, its mayor for nearly five years, a gay, noisy farewell today.

A lower Broadway parade, speech-making at city hall plaza and a private party at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel were on the schedule.

Then O'Dwyer will wave his goodbye to turbulent years in the nation's second toughest political job and take a train to California for a vacation.

He and his pretty former fashion designer wife will vacation there until Oct. 20. Then O'Dwyer will report in "Mexico City" as ambassador, if, as expected, the Senate confirms the nomination it received yesterday from President Truman.

O'Dwyer resignation as mayor does not become effective until Saturday, but city council president Vincent R. Impellitteri becomes acting mayor as soon as O'Dwyer leaves the city.

Impellitteri will continue in the job until Dec. 31, when a new mayor, to be elected in November, takes over.

Moral Rearmament Ideals Outlined At Mackinac Gathering

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. — (P) — The moral rearmament group wants this country to work out a philosophy that will "unite the west and win the east."

"That aim was outlined yesterday by MRA leader T. Willard Hunter of Washington, who will head a conference on "ideological mobilization" that begins here tomorrow.

Delegates from all parts of this country and Canada are expected to attend the session, the MRA's ninth annual conference.

"It is imperative," Hunter said, "that the civilian population as well as our forces in Korea know what we are fighting for as well as what we are fighting against."

Employees At MSC Get $293,866 Raise

EAST LANSING — (P) — A $293,866 pay boost for labor service and clerical employees of Michigan State college was announced today by President John A. Hannah.

The pay hike, he said, will go into effect with the pay period nearest Sept. 1. It was voted by the state board of agriculture, governing body of the college.

All MSC hourly employees will receive an additional five cents an hour boost. Monthly labor employees and all clerical help on yearly salaries will receive an extra $10 a month.

Airline Disaster Claims 55 Lives On Delta Of Nile

CAIRO — (P) — A Trans-World Airline Constellation plane carrying 55 persons, 23 of them Americans, crashed and burned today north of Cairo, killing all aboard.

The airline announced there were no survivors among the 48 passengers and seven crewmen. Reports from the scene said the plane was so badly burned that only a small section of it remained intact.

A search plane sighted the burning wreckage of the big four-engine Constellation, Star of Maryland, on the Nile delta area 40 miles north of the Egyptian capital. It saw no signs of survivors, TWA reported.

Five of the crew of seven aboard the plane, bound from Bombay, India, to Rome, were Americans. The other two were French. Eighteen of the 48 passengers were Americans, and the remainder represented 11 other nationalities.

Two passengers were Indian nationals en route to a United Nations meeting in Paris. Another passenger was the Egyptian movie star Lilliane Cohen, whose screen name is Camelia. She is known as

Railway Tieup Ends In Canada

OTTAWA — (P) — Canada's trains rolled and telegraph lines clicked again today, ending a nine-day nationwide strike.

The first such general tie-up in the nation's history was called off by union leaders last night just 19 minutes after a special government back-to-work bill became law. It called for the strike to end in 48 hours.

The vanguard of the 124,000 strikers responded promptly to the back-to-work call broadcast by strike leaders Frank H. Hall and A. R. Mosher. Roundhouses stirred with activity. Locomotives were fired. Switches and signals were inspected. Wire communications reopened.

In their first demands, the unions asked a 40-hour week, effective Jan. 1, with pay for 48 hours, plus a seven-cent-an-hour raise, retroactive to June, 1949. The railroads offered a four-cent raise, effective Sept. 1, and the 40-hour week at the current 48-hour pay effective Oct. 1, 1951.

Under the new law, the workers will get the four-cent raise and continue to work the 48-hour week, pending a final settlement. A government-named arbitrator will step in if the settlement is not reached in 30 days.

Canoeist Drowned

SAWYER, Mich. — (P) — Allan Paver, 21, of LaGrange Park, Ill., drowned in Lake Michigan yesterday after a wave upset a canoe in which he and Larry Thomas, 19, of Maywood, Ill., were riding. Thomas was rescued by William Hacking, 22, of Spring Valley.

Fathers To Be Taken In Draft

WASHINGTON — (P) — Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House armed services committee said today the draft soon will be extended to married men with dependent children.

Without taking fathers, Vinson told reporters, draft boards will not be able to meet future calls to increase the size of the armed forces.

Vinson made the statement just after the House passed a bill providing for allotments of from $85 to $165 a month for GI families.

"This means," he said, "that selective service now can broaden its calls to include men with children who are within the draft age."

"That is the purpose of the allotment act, to make financial provision for the families of such men."

Tucker Files Libel Suit Against Coronet

CHICAGO — (P) — Preston T. Tucker, promoter of a rear-engine automobile, sued the publishers of Coronet magazine yesterday for $5,000,000, alleging libel.

Four officers of the publishing firm and the author of an article about Tucker which appeared in the November, 1949, issue of Coronet also were named defendants.

The suit is the fifth Tucker has started in recent months. His libel claims now total $19,000,000.

Wreck On Santa Fe Injures 30 Persons

LAMFASAS, Tex. — (P) — Between 25 and 30 persons were reported injured early today in the derailment of a Santa Fe passenger train 12 miles west of here.

Word of the wreck was given by Deputy Sheriff Henry Cunningham.

He said the locomotive did not leave the track.

Lamfensas is in Central Texas, about 75 miles north of Austin, the state capital.

Russian Peace Treaty Reported In Germany

BERLIN — (P) — The west German newspaper Die Welt said today the Russians and the Communist government of the Soviet zone have reached agreement on a peace treaty.

The terms would be used as a new lever to pry the western allies out of Berlin, the newspaper said.

Die Welt, established in the British zone and in west Berlin, is frequently well-informed on east German subjects.

The report of the treaty negotiations could not be confirmed in other quarters. U. S. intelligence sources said they had no knowledge of it.

The newspaper said the Russians had written into the treaty the following terms:

Soviet troops would withdraw behind the Oder river in the east within six months after the signing.

Strangler Of 5 Admits Killing

EAST GREENWICH, R. I. — (P) — A 27-year-old rubber factory worker was held under bail today for the grand jury charges on murder in the bludgeon and strangulation deaths of a family of five.

The seared bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Dusza and their three children were found in their fire-ravaged home Tuesday.

Police said Edwin H. Reynolds, boarder in the Dusza home, admitted he killed the entire family over a period of three hours after a violent argument with Dusza.

The argument, Police Chief Charles Johnson said, was over paternity of a child which would have been born to Mrs. Dusza in October. Reynolds asserted that he fathered the unborn baby.

Reynolds is the father of three children by his estranged wife.

Cook County Jail Vice Investigated

CHICAGO — (P) — Some prisoners at the big Cook County jail, says state's attorney John S. Boyle, have been getting women, liquor, narcotics and fine food—by paying a few dollars to the night prison.

Boyle termed the jail "rotten from top to bottom," and said a grand jury will investigate the "shocking conditions." Boyle said he had received a report from an assistant James Condon, who has been investigating jail conditions since an escape plot was thwarted last month.

Col. Chester L. Fordney, the jail warden, said "conditions are not as bad as the state's attorney thinks," he added, however, it was "no secret" that narcotics and other items, knives, razor blades and hypodermic needles—have been smuggled into the jail. He denied that prisoners held trysts with women.

Fordney's superior, Sheriff Elmer Michael Walsh, a Republican, said that politics were behind the charges.

Boyle, a Democrat, said Condon told him that prisoners, by paying $3 to a guard or a trusty, have entertained women visitors in a consultation cell near the main entrance.

Prisoners by paying $5 have been able to buy whiskey and narcotics, as well as steaks—not on the prison menu—Boyle said his assistant told him.

Boyle said some inmates paid 50 cents for stainless steel food trays from the jail hospital and pounded them into knives. He said such type of knives had been found among prisoners last month.

Condon also reported, Boyle said, that guards have smuggled prisoners any amount of money from the outside for a 20 per cent cut. Jail rules limit prisoners to $5 a week.

Detroit Rabbi Robbed At Hotel In Chicago

CHICAGO — (P) — Police are looking for thieves who reportedly broke into a Chicago hotel room Tuesday night and escaped with $2,300 in clothing and jewelry owned by Rabbi Herbert Eskin of Detroit.

Rabbi Eskin and his wife were attending a banquet at another hotel at the time of the robbery. The banquet was sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the clergyman gave the benediction.

While they were gone, he told police, intruders took everything in their room except Mrs. Eskin's shoes and the rabbi's chaplain's insignia.

Eskin is Rabbi at the Mt. Sinai Temple and chaplain at the Veterans hospital in Detroit.

Punch Of Gulf Hurricane Lost

NEW ORLEANS — (P) — The freakish gulf hurricane that swept inland last night near Mobile, Ala., appeared today to have delivered its heaviest punch at Panama City, Fla.

No loss of life was reported, and the storm apparently caused little damage elsewhere.

A tornado—believed an offshoot of the storm—seriously injured two persons and wrecked a dozen houses at Apalachicola, Fla.

There was virtually no damage in Pensacola beyond small tree limbs which were snapped off. High tides washed out some beach property and wharves were damaged slightly when waters rose five and a half feet above normal.

Pensacola's power failed for more than eight hours.

Moorings of a two masted fishing smack tipped loose while no one was aboard. But the crew was able to capture the wind-sparked vessel and make it fast again.

The storm or its weak leftover wind blew into central Alabama during the early morning hours. Light debris and a litter of torn tree limbs marked its trail.

Tipsy Drivers Appeal

JACKSON — (P) — Seventeen persons given stiff penalties for drunk and reckless driving by Municipal Judge M. Grove Hatch have appealed to Jackson county circuit court and will get hearings in the September session. In recent weeks the judge has made the penalty for drunk driving at least 20 days in jail and $50 fine, and has given several jail terms to reckless drivers.

Bureau Group To Meet Here

Industrial Problems Will Be Discussed

The Industrial Action committee of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau will meet at the House of Ludington on Saturday, Sept. 30 to complete its draft of a plan to promote industrial expansion in the area.

Emerson Poag of Saginaw, who for years was active in promotion and advertising work in the automotive field, will deliver the main address at the noon luncheon meeting. Mr. Poag is a member of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission, having received his appointment during Gov. Kim Sigler's administration.

The committee will open its meeting at 10 a. m. All interested persons are invited to attend.

The "plan of action" will be submitted for final approval at the annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau to be held at Blaney Park Oct. 6 and 7.

Divorce Rate Drops Off In Michigan

LANSING — (P) — A drop of 50 per cent in Michigan's divorce rate in the past three years was noted by the state department of health.

It said, however, that in 1949 there still was one divorce for every 3.3 marriages in the state.

In 1946, the department said, 10.2 out of every 1,000 Michigan people were divorced. By 1949, this figure had fallen to 5.1 out of every 1,000. Divorces declined from a peak of 29,158 in 1946 to 16,017 in 1949, but in 1949, showed a slight increase to 16,274.

The downward trend in marriages also continued, the department said. In 1946, there were 78,808 marriages. In 1949, only 53,109 marriages were performed. While 27.6 people out of every 1,000 undertook marriage in 1946, only 16.7 out of every 1,000 entered matrimony in 1949.

Stable hands between the ages of 15 and 64 have a higher mortality rate than any other group of workers.

Chicago Firm To Rent Venus Garment Plant

The R. C. corporation, headed by Charles L. Calisch of Chicago, will lease the Venus Garment building on Third avenue north for the manufacture of women's foundation garments.

Calisch notified City Manager A. V. Aronson and Secretary Hugh Grow of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce this morning that he would accept the rental terms proposed for the city-owned building.

Plan School For Firemen

Will Be Held Sept. 5-8 At Iron Mountain

A regional fire school, the third in a series, will be held at Iron Mountain Sept. 5, 6, 7 and 8, under sponsorship of the University of Michigan extension service and the state department of public instruction.

Robert Winger, of Lansing, supervisor of public service training for the office of vocational education, will be chairman of the training school for firemen, and Chief Wallace F. Gannon, instructor in fireman's training for the University of Michigan extension service, will be co-chairman.

Sessions will be held from 7 to 10 p. m., each day in the Iron Mountain fire station. Pumper evolutions and the use of ropes, keys to fire fighting, and fireman training will be considered.

Jacob Hohmann Jr., assistant chief of the Bay City fire department; Capt. Clifford Warner, University of Michigan extension service lecturer; Chief Wallace Gannon and Robert Winger will instruct the classes.

A public demonstration of oil pit fires will follow the closing session.

Suit Filed To Cancel $9,000,000 Rate Raise For Michigan Bell

LANSING — (P) — Attorney General Stephen J. Roth brought suit Tuesday to cancel a $9,000,000 rate increase granted June 19 to the Michigan Bell Telephone Company by the State Public Service Commission.

The suit, Roth said, does not affect his earlier petition to the commission to rehear the Michigan Bell rate case.

Roth bases his suit largely on his argument that the commission violated history, precedent, law and its own previous orders by using as a rate base the so-called "present fair value" of company property. This was fixed at $350,000,000.

He said the commission is only allowed to use the "original cost" of company property as a rate base. The commission staff fixed this figure at $296,000,000.

Fire Damages Pulpwood Car

Gondola On Train Ignited At Beaver

Part of a shipment of pulpwood and the gondola car on which they were loaded was considerably damaged by fire at 9:10 p. m. last night on the Chicago & North Western railway near Beaver.

The pulpwood was part of a 69-car train No. 280 and was being moved from Ishpeming to Oconto Falls, Wis. P. Miller and E. L. Taylor of Escanaba were the conductor and engineer.

Leonard Reynolds, Peninsula division superintendent of the C&NW, said the fire apparently was caused by an overheated journal bearing on the gondola.

Perkins and Rock fire departments responded to calls and extinguished the blaze. The car was left at Beaver for repairs.

Regular Trout Season To Close Sept. 10

LANSING — (P) — The regular trout season closes Sept. 10, the conservation department reminded fishermen today.

But for anglers who still want to fish in September, October and November, it has named 163 lakes, ponds or portions of streams in 51 counties where rainbows may be taken by hook and line.

The Great Lakes, Lake St. Clair, the St. Marys, St. Clair and Detroit rivers also are open Sept. 1-Nov. 30, it said. The limit per day and in possession continues at 15.

Fishermen can check with local conservation officers for open waters of interest.

Dog Bites Boy—James Kasbohm, 13, of Bark River, was bitten in the face here yesterday by a dog owned by Ed Blazek of Escanaba, city police report. The dog has been ordered tied for 10 days for observation.

Venus Garment Workers—Geraldine Gordon of Chicago, field representative of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union will meet with members of Venus Local 421 at Carpenters hall at 4 Friday afternoon. Former employees of the Venus plant, desiring more detailed information about the meeting, are requested to communicate with Agnes Shandoney, Venus local president.

Library Meeting—Mrs. A. M. Gilbert of this city, member of the Carnegie library board, will attend the meeting of the Michigan Library Board at Mackinac Island Sept. 1. Mrs. Nancy B. Thomas and Miss Winifred Harvey also are attending the sessions.

Steam On—The city steam plant was put back in operation yesterday and by noon today all mains in the city were heated. A. V. Aronson, city manager, stated today. The plant was opened, after the summer shut-down, two weeks earlier than was anticipated. This summer the steam plant was completely closed. Previously two blocks on Ludington street received heat during summer months. Closing of the plant this summer will save about $5,000 on the steam operation, the city manager reported.

Lightning Sets Off Mine Blast, One Dead

POTTSVILLE, Pa. — (P) — Lightning, travelling 430 feet along a wire into a mine, exploded five charges of dynamite, killing one independent miner and critically injuring another.

Harry Hartz, 35, Tremont was killed and Harvey Reiner, 32,

Donaldson, injured shortly before they were scheduled to leave the mine and set off the dynamite charge. Another miner, J. A. Rhody of Tremont, already had departed and was in a shanty near the mouth of the mine when the lightning struck.

Rhody said the dynamite exploded in the faces of Hartz and Reiner. The latter was taken to Pottsville hospital with injuries of the head and face.

Industrial Show Was Eye-Opener

U. P. Fair Will Give More Space To It

Described as an "eye-opener" by those who saw it, the industrial exhibit at the Upper Peninsula state fair, featuring the manufacture and marketing of native resources, may become an annual event.

Less than half of Upper Michigan's concerns engaged in the fabricating of marketable products out of materials found in the peninsula were represented, and several expressed regret they did not take advantage of the opportunity. Among the 24 who sent articles for the exhibit, several said they would be pleased to take part in a similar demonstration next year.

Purpose of the exhibit was to produce "convincing evidence" that industry utilizing Upper Peninsula resources and employing Upper Peninsula labor can succeed in this area, and, from that phase, it was "very successful," according to the U. P. Development Bureau.

Officials of the Bureau, which sponsored the exhibit in cooperation with the fair board directors, declared today:

"This is an idea which many of our people must grasp if impetus is to be given to efforts now being made to further the industrial development of our area."

Not only has desire been expressed that the exhibit be made an annual affair at the U. P. state fair, but fair officials have been asked to allot more space for it.

Concrete Pouring Started At Grand Marais Harbor

GRAND MARAIS—The first pour of concrete into forms that will cap the east pier of the Grand Marais harbor entrance was started this week. No. 1 form is filled and No. 3 in the process. A total of 14 forms or 28 pours are necessary to complete the cap job after which there still will remain the work of building a parapet, a four-foot suspended catwalk.

Originally this approximately $150,000 contract job under operation by St. Mary's Construction company of Sault Ste. Marie, was scheduled to be completed in two months or by September 15. Strong northwest and northeast winds have caused waves or sea that has made the working of barges and men in the channel unsafe. The adverse weather is estimated to have slowed construction by an average of two days a week.

Thirty-five men, working two shifts, keep the job rolling from 4 to 9. When weather conditions permit construction continues 24 hours a day.

The east pier must be torn down to normal water level before forms for the concrete cap can be placed. All this year Lake Superior has been two feet, 2 inches higher than usual which also complicates construction work. Many of the men are compelled to work in diving suits.

Joseph Beatty of Abrams, Wis., one of the nation's top deep sea divers, is supervisor of construction. Mr. Beatty was responsible for raising the Humphries when it sunk in the Straits.

If fall weather on this Lake Superior shore is normal with strong prevailing northwesterly winds it is doubtful if construction will be completed before winter.

U. S. tornado death toll averages over 200 a year.

Many Escanaba Teachers Attend Summer Schools

Thirty-eight Escanaba public school teachers attended summer sessions in universities and colleges during the past summer, records at the superintendent's office reveal.

Misses Eleanor Kroll, Marjorie Irwin and Mary Stark and Donald McKie studied at the University of Colorado, and the Misses Margaret Terey and Sally Dinger were enrolled at the University of Hawaii.

Six teachers studied at Northern Michigan College of Education this summer. They were Berenice Firkus, Ethel Barth, Alice Jodocy, Ruth Sundquist, Ellen Jarvenpaa and Stephen Baltic.

Others who studied in Michigan schools were Clifford Roberts and George Ruwitch, who attended the University of Michigan; Miss Cora Peltier, who studied at Central Michigan College of Education in Mt. Pleasant; Clarence Moore, who attended special education sessions at Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti; Ray Peppers, who studied at Michigan State college and Oliver Koski, who attended sessions at Wayne university.

Two teachers, Miss Helen Holmberg and Miss Jeannette Hovden, studied at the University of Minnesota; and three, Marvin Paffenroth, John Jirjickov and Eugene Riedl, attended Oshkosh State Teachers college.

Miss Joyce Kopitzke studied at the University of Iowa; Allan Mathison at the University of Tennessee; James Buelow at the University of Wisconsin; and Frances Crahan at Mankato State Teachers college.

Five Escanaba teachers attended the summer session at Milwaukee State Teachers college. Those were Miss Patricia Twoig, Miss Jane Lee Alexander, Miss Margaret Krastover, Chester Kleeman and Robert Eul.

Erwin Wolff and Joseph Petryk attended Stout Institute in Wisconsin; Miss Leora Ryan studied at Rosary college in Illinois; Miss Mary Ellen Wielech at Loyola university, and Miss Joan Tyack and John Romstad at Northwestern university.

Bishop Talks At Madison

Great Lakes Area Council Meets

MADISON, Wis.—Despite weather conditions and the uncertainties of the national and international situation, "our better resorts and hotels" report a fairly good business, George E. Bishop, secretary manager of the U. P. Development Bureau, told members of the Northern Great Lakes Area Council meeting here Tuesday.

Bishop, a member of the council, participated in discussion of matters relating to Great Lakes area development and in outlining a council program for 1951.

"The resort and travel business for the Upper Peninsula of Michigan is definitely down as compared to previous years," he stated. "Traffic at the Straits of Mackinac for the first 21 days of August was down 8.8 per cent as compared with 1949 and it is down 3.6 per cent for the year to date as compared with the same period in 1949. The decline of cash dollar income left at hotels and resorts of all kinds is probably nearly 20 per cent."

"The unusually low temperatures prevailing in our area this summer have not been conducive to long stays on the part of our vacation guests and on the other hand, cool temperatures in areas from which we draw our great number of patrons have not had the tendency to drive people north to seek relief from the heat."

"Competition of consumer goods for the vacation dollar in the family budget, the uncertainty of the national and international situation doubtless has resulted in postponement or cancellation of vacations. In spite of this, our better resorts and hotels—our old established resorts offering American plan service or modernized housekeeping facilities—report a fairly good business—80 to 90 per cent of which is repeat patronage."

Germfask Classes Begin Tuesday

GERMFASK—The Germfask school will open Tuesday, September 5, for the fall term.

Teachers are: Neal Jacobson, principal; Mrs. Leonard England, 5th and 6th grades; Mrs. Ruth Brown, 3d and 4th grades; Miss Beatrice Thorley, 2nd and 3d grades; Miss Mary Goudreau, kindergarten and first grade.

The high school bus will begin its trips to Manistique Wednesday morning, the opening day of classes there.

Perkins Schools Open For Fall Term September 5

PERKINS—Perkins high school and grade school will open September 5. Hot lunch will be served on the first day.

The teaching staff includes Supt. Leo Godin; Tom Gerovac and Mrs. Allene Edick, high school; Mrs. Jean Vogt, seventh and eighth grades; Miss Alice Dunsmore, fifth and sixth grades; Mrs. Angeline Goudin, third and fourth grades; and Miss Margaret Peterson, first and second grades. Mrs. Lucille Fisher will teach kindergarten.

Lawrence Besson is school custodian. Bus drivers are Ray Norden and Lawrence LaChance. Miss Della Sharkey and Mrs. Agnes Peterson are in charge of the hot lunch program.

Miss Dunsmore of Gladstone replaces Mrs. Lillian Gordon Bergner of Green Bay. Miss Dunsmore is a graduate of Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette.

Theft Of Rabbits, Pet Duck Reported

Three pairs of New Zealand white rabbits, owned by Francis Lueneburg, 2131 Fifth avenue south, and a pet duck owned by Ricky Austad, 1400 Second avenue south, have been stolen this week, city police report.

The rabbits were stolen from a rabbit house at the Lueneburg residence and the white duck was taken while it was in front of the Austad home.

James Andrews, 2310 Fifth avenue south, has reported to police someone entered his house this week through a basement window. A gold-mounted pencil was among missing items.

Gasoline Stations Serve Public; They Are Not A 'Necessary Evil'

MANY Escanaba residents probably were as surprised as we were to learn that the city's zoning ordinance regards a gasoline station as some evil business that should be tolerated only under unusual circumstances.

The zoning ordinance, according to an opinion of the city attorney, classifies a gasoline station as a "non-conforming use" anywhere in the city. That means that anyone who desires to build a gasoline station, or to make improvements on existing stations, must take his problem to the city board of appeals. The board of appeals must hold a public hearing on the case before it can issue a permit. This applies no matter where the applicant desires to build or to improve a gasoline station in the city—in commercial or industrial zones as well as local business and residential zones.

If it is surprising to Escanaba residents in general that such a provision is contained in the city zoning ordinance, it is obvious that it must be equally surprising to city officials because several gasoline stations have been constructed or rebuilt in recent years without submitting the issues to the board of appeals.

The wording of the city zoning ordinance undoubtedly justifies the opinion of the city attorney in his interpretation of its meaning. The wording in the zoning ordinance is at fault, not the legal opinion. We do not believe, however, that it was the intent of the city council to regard gasoline stations as an undesired business, either at the time the zoning ordinance was adopted or at the present time.

This is a motorized age and gasoline stations provide an essential service. It is not difficult to imagine that the zoning ordinance was designed to regard gasoline stations as "non-conforming uses" in residential zones and perhaps also in local business zones. We do not believe, however, that it was the intent of the city council, or the authors of the zoning ordinance, to regard a gasoline station as a "non-conforming use" in either an industrial or a commercial district.

The term "non-conforming use" implies under the zoning theory that such use is in conflict with the objectives desired for a zone area and that such use should either be prohibited or be tolerated only on a temporary basis until such time as it can be eliminated. Surely no one can conscientiously accept this principle for gasoline stations in a commercial or industrial zone. We need them and we want them to continue to serve us, not temporarily but permanently.

Correction can come by a re-wording of the zoning ordinance so that the desires of the public will not be thwarted by ambiguous language.

Expansion Of Escanaba Industry Good Sign

ANNOUNCEMENT of the Harnischfeger corporation's plans to move its cab manufacturing operations to the warehouse building in the rear of its truck crane plant is a very favorable sign.

In the same issue of the Press was a news story describing the improvements that are being made at the No. 2 power dam above the Escanaba Paper company's mill on the Escanaba river.

Both developments indicate that two of Escanaba's major industries have faith in the future and are making plans to stay in business in this community for a long time.

The Harnischfeger move reveals the company wants more space for the production of truck cabs. It also is providing more room for its new D-C welder plant which will get into production within a short time. Harnischfeger also reports that the public demand for its A-C welders is showing a highly satisfactory increase and production is mounting correspondingly. The A-C welder plant, housed in the former Steele-Wallace building, now employs about one hundred persons. Employment at the Stephenson avenue plant will rise when the new D-C unit is opened in the space formerly occupied by the Delta Furniture company.

The Birds Eye Veneer company and Shepley Dimension & Lumber company, which are included among Escanaba's major industries, are also running at full capacity.

This is the favorable side of Escanaba's industrial picture. The unfavorable aspect is the fact that the two buildings, which once housed the Worth Fishing Tackle company and the Venus Garment company, are still vacant.

And there are still many unemployed people in Delta county. The total of jobless has declined in recent months, but this change was not due to any appreciable increase of job opportunities here. The figure was reduced because many unemployed left Delta county to get work in Milwaukee, Detroit, Flint and other industrial centers whose industries are now tooling up for the production of war goods.

Shortly after World War II, Escanaba won the envy of other Upper Peninsula communities with its aggressive campaign to develop new industries. It was an energetic effort that got results. The time has come, it appears, for a resumption of that good old Escanaba drive to create jobs for the jobless and more business for the stores and other service establishments.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Inside fact about the White House crackdowns on Secretary of the Navy Matthews and General MacArthur is that the administration had been waiting for a chance to knock down the increasing eagerness of the military to encroach on the civilian branches of government.

A lot of things have been going on which the public doesn't know about, all pointing toward more and more military rule. One was the quiet attempt by Secretary of Defense Johnson to keep Guam under the military when it was supposed to go under a civilian governor July 1. Another is the navy's attempt to hold on to the "trust islands" of the Pacific. Another has been General MacArthur's repeated attempts to dictate foreign policy.

Another flagrant intervention of the military into foreign policy was when eleven generals secretly went up to Congress and urged a $100,000,000 loan to Dictator Franco of Spain—despite the fact that their commander-in-chief in the White House had ruled against such a loan.

President Truman was icy cool with his secretary of defense when he heard of this. Unsmiling, he turned to Louey Johnson in cabinet meeting and snapped: "And I don't want any more trips by you or your generals to Congress regarding a loan to Franco."

GENERALS WANT WAR

The two public crackdowns were aimed directly at MacArthur, and indirectly at Johnson through his secretary of the navy. Actually, Secretary Matthews is a sincere, idealistic, lovable person, the top lay Catholic in the United States, and neither the state department nor the White House wanted to hit him personally.

However, the statement by a cabinet officer in favor of a preventive war, it was decided, had to be disavowed publicly. For it played directly into the hands of European propagandists, already partly successful in branding us as warmongers.

Another reason for the crackdown was that General Arvil Anderson, commander of the air war college, at Maxwell air base, Montgomery, Ala., has been staging a series of lectures in which a preventive war is urged openly.

One of the distinguished speakers at the air war college has been Father Edmund Walsh of Georgetown university, a friend of Secretary Matthews, who voiced almost the same preventive war idea as Matthews.

Another earlier speaker at the air college was Brig. Gen. S. D. Grubbs, former commander at Maxwell, who, in an address before a civilian group in Montgomery during the Berlin blockade, urged an ultimatum to Russia that if the blockade was not lifted in 36 hours, we should declare war.

General Maxwell himself, speaking some time ago before the Kiwanis club at Montgomery, indicated that he favored immediate war with Russia; and there has been concrete evidence that the general follows a deliberate program at the air college aimed to indoctrinate students with the idea of an immediate attack.

All these matters have been reported to the White House from time to time; and as a result President Truman is determined that the original concept of military duty laid down by the founding fathers shall be followed, namely that it is the military's job to win wars not declare them.

Note 1—If the United States followed the advice of the generals in favor of an early war, it would appear—based on results in Korea—that the military are a long way from being prepared.

Note 2—A group of farsighted senators, led by Brian McMahon of Connecticut, have introduced a resolution calling for a disarmament conference to show the world that we would reduce armament if Russia would do the same. While they have no great illusions that Russia would reduce, they feel it important to keep his peaceful goal before the world.

LECTURE IN LONDON

U. S. Ambassador Douglas has bawled out the British for talking rearmament but doing nothing. Last week he told Foreign Minister Bevin in very plain English that the United States was shocked at failure to call parliament back into session. The ambassador also told Bevin that Britain's current plan for rearmament is completely inadequate; that whereas the United States is calling up thousands of men, Britain is merely marking time.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Q. To settle a dispute, please tell us how the bridge expert, Ely Culbertson, pronounced his first name.—D. M.

A. In a recent letter, Mr. Culbertson tells me that he pronounces Ely in the British manner, thus: EE-lee.

Q. My family name is Leech. What nationality is it, and does it have a meaning?—A. L. L.

A. Leech is the modern spelling of the Anglo-Saxon laece, "one who heals; a physician." Until comparatively recent years, the physician relied upon blood-letting in treating most ailments. The favorite method was by the use of the blood-sucking worm, Hirudo medicinalis, commonly called "leech." Whether the leech was named after the physician or the physician after the leech is uncertain. At any rate, in Wycliffe's translation of the Bible (about 1382) the first complete translation of the Vulgate into English, Luke iv, 23 reads: "Leech, heal thyself," instead of (Authorized Version): "Physician, heal thyself."

Add unusual names: Mrs. M. E., of Savannah (she is now 85) writes: "When I was a child in Michigan I knew an Indian named Halfaday Holiday and Able Workman was a neighbor of ours." M. G. F., of Bellaire, Ohio, used to teach school. These were green of her pupils: Ima Remnant, Nile Green, Ellabee God, Roy Scarf-pin, Bennettville, S. C. Please give the meaning of the name Suzanne. It means very much to me.—Mrs. E. G.

A. Suzanne is a variant form of Susanna, which is from the Hebrew shoshanna, "a lily." Other spellings of the name are: Susanne, Susannah, Susan.

War-Born Buying Is Sharply Deflated; 'Sales' Are Back Again

Report From Macy's

The buying balloon pumped up by war-scarred consumers has deflated pretty sharply.

This fact stands out from a Wall Street Journal check of buying trends in 11 major cities across the nation. The situation varies considerably from city to city, but in general sales of sugar, coffee, canned goods, tires, nylons and sheets are only slightly above pre-Korea levels.

Typical is this remark of an executive of Ralph's Grocery Stores, Inc., big Los Angeles supermarket chain: "Buying has leveled out to about what it was before Korea; it's just about normal."

Report From Macy's

Adds a spokesman for one of Philadelphia's "big five" department stores: "So-called scare-buying has dropped terrifically and there is very little left." New York's giant R. H. Macy & Co. department store reports that it is now staging sales on some items, like towels, which were being snatched off the counters by eager buyers at the July buying peak. "And," a spokesman declares, "there isn't anything in the store that is so short in supply that a sale couldn't be staged."

Sales of appliances like refrigerators, deep freezers, and television sets are up somewhat more than soft goods, but are also down sharply from the scare-buying peak of about a month ago. The same story is generally true of automobiles.

"Our appliance business has slowed down, but only from 'terrific' to 'good,'" declares the merchandise manager of a large New England power and light company. His counterpart at a large Detroit department store reports that appliance sales are now running about 15% to 20% ahead of a year ago, compared with as much as 200% three weeks ago.

Among the most dramatic cases of the buying slowdown is that of coffee. In Rochester, N. Y., for example, chain stores report sales down 70% to 80%. The owner of a small chain of Pittsburgh supermarkets finds demand for both coffee and canned goods "back to normal."

Flight of the Balloon

Government figures on department store sales tell the history of the buying balloon. The Federal Reserve Board reported that for the week ending July 8, shortly after the shooting war broke out, department store sales were up about 8% from the like week of 1949. The following week they were up 25%, the week after 46%.

Then they started to decline. For the week ended July 29 the up-from-1949 gain was 42%, a week later 30%, then 25%. The last report, for the August 19 week, showed them running 12% ahead of the like 1949 period. Some department store men think they're currently about even with a year ago.

Many retailers are beginning to worry with the thought that they "did next month's business last month." A New York department store executive, for example, says that his sales of women's ready-to-wear indicate that "July and August sales were borrowed from September and October."

Similar reports come from other areas. A big San Francisco grocer says that he's selling about 25% to 50% of the amount of sugar "we would be selling normally, which means the people are using up what they bought during the scare." He adds that his over-all sales "are about 10% lower than they would be normally."

Tales of Tires

"Our supplies of tires are back to normal again, but we can't say the same thing about demand," chimes in M. A. May, sales manager of a Goodrich tire store in Houston. "It's dropped to below what it usually is this time of year. The only thing to conclude is that demand is getting saturated."

The general manager of one of Detroit's largest department stores chips in with this fear: "We feel a large part of the rush buying was caused by people trying to beat stiffer credit terms. It's possible that consumers are now so loaded up with credit, and have mortgaged so much of their income, that they won't be so free to buy in the near future."

What's the apple of the boarder's eye in one city, may excite much less interest in another, the cross-country check shows.

For example, in New York one big grocery chain reports that it "no sooner cuts sugar on the shelves than housewives snatch it off." And a store in the Flushing residential section has a big sign in its window offering "five pounds of sugar for 48 cents with each five pound purchase of potatoes."

But only 150 miles south in Washington, Magruder, Inc., which operates three stores, finds that sugar sales are "a little below the pre-Korea level."

The Picture in Autos

Automobiles are another case in point. In Chicago, Chrysler dealer John Lodi says that although sales have declined 70% to 80% from the peak three weeks ago he has an order backlog which will take care of all the cars he can get this year. But Cleveland Dodge-Plymouth dealer B. W. Blauschild is somewhat worried about his backlog. One day last week he called six customers on his waiting list to deliver cars and found that five had already gotten delivery elsewhere.

Or consider appliances. E. P. Simmons, president of the big Sanger Bros. department store in Dallas finds an unfilled demand for their still exists. "We think we could sell more appliances than we are receiving," says he. But Chicago dealers are offering home-freezers, refrigerators and washers for immediate delivery.

Science Fiction Writers Meet To Discuss Future

By HARRY WARNER, JR.

NEA Special Correspondent

PORTLAND, Ore. —(NEA)—Confident that the first trip to Mars isn't far away, hundreds of the men and women who read, write, and edit science fiction stories will meet here for their annual science fiction convention.

Science fiction fans once claim that they had to have the meetings to keep from feeling too lonely in a world where most persons scoffed at tales of the future and science. But suddenly the situation is reversed. About 50 science fiction books were published last year, the number of pulp magazines in the field nearly doubled, and the slick magazines suddenly got interested in this kind of story.

September's three-day convention will be devoted to talks on the future of mankind, movies related to the science fiction field, discussions of policies that the fans want to pursue, and the traditional auction of their favorite literature.

Veteran fans think that science fiction stories give a real preview of tomorrow. They point with pride to tales of atomic power which appeared regularly for 10 years before Hiroshima. They claim that every other 20th Century invention has been foreseen by the great science fiction writers like Jules Verne, H. G. Wells and others.

Today's crop of science fiction writers and editors know more about real science than those pioneers, and may turn out to be more consistent prophets. John W. Campbell, Jr., who edits Astounding Science Fiction, is a recognized authority on the atom and author of a book dealing with nuclear physics. Dr. Thomas S. Gardner, fan and author for two decades, has gained national prominence as a chemist who is looking into the chances of increasing the life span of mankind.

Principal beef of science fiction fans is against the mental picture of them that the American public has formed. They insist that they don't go around trying to build disintegrators and they don't pretend to know whether flying saucers come from another planet. Past conventions, in fact, have been rather sedate affairs.

Although it's just beginning to attract wider attention, science fiction is one of the oldest forms of literature. The Greeks liked fanciful accounts about the first trip to the moon, with a big set of wings usually adopted for transportation. Conservative estimates claim that 5000 books published in the last 100 years can be ranked as science fiction or closely related to this field.

Fans may resume at Portland this year their oldest argument: is science fiction of any value, aside from serving as entertainment?

Some of the leading figures insist that it's nothing but another kind of fiction. Their opponents claim that the stories are a sugar-coated way of gaining knowledge of basic science, and a stimulus to the imagination of technicians.

HOLIDAYS FOR HORSES

COPENHAGEN — (AP)—Denmark now has a hotel which consists of a large shelter and a big field of juicy grass. The host is a veterinary surgeon and the guests are carthorses.

The hotel has been established by an animal welfare association to give city horses a needed holiday in the country. The idea was born last summer after the newspapers had published a story of a Copenhagen carter who was permitted by his firm to take his horse with him into the country during his summer vacation.

Lightning strikes, seen by the naked eye as a single electrical flash, are repeated on the average of three times and up to as many as 40 trip-hammer bolts. Major charges are from two and one-half to four and one-half miles above the earth.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

JUST LIKE HOME—Last weekend Guy Knutson, Escanaba city councilman, met an old friend of his while on a motor trip to the Garden Peninsula and Fayette.

At Fayette he fell into conversation with a commercial fisherman and Knutson discovered that he and the fisherman, Lexie Nelson, both had the same birthplace—Ellefson Bay, Door county, Wisconsin. The two men were boys back in 1914 or 1915 when they last saw each other at Ellefson Bay.

Nelson, a pound net fisherman, and Knutson decided that the Garden Peninsula is most akin to Door county in scenery. Both places are famous for their high limestone bluffs and many attractive little harbors.

BUILDING UP — Door county is, of course, the better known of the two scenic areas, but the Garden Peninsula is becoming increasingly popular with tourists and fishermen.

Yachtsmen long ago discovered the beauty of Fayette harbor and Burnt Bluff and the Garden Peninsula in general. Riding at anchor in Fayette harbor while Knutson talked with Nelson was the C. W. Stoll schooner "Rose of Sharon" from Escanaba, its trim lines reflected in the glassy surface of the snug harbor.

While the rest of the Garden Peninsula is rapidly building up, Miss Gladys Edwards of Detroit, who bought Fayette harbor area several years ago with the announced intention of turning it into a first class tourist resort, is doing nothing toward carrying out her plans.

THE HOME SITE — Escanaba is also building up, particularly along the south bay shore in the area once known as South Park.

One of the new homes just started is for Atty. John G. "Jack" Erickson and Mrs. Erickson—and their home will be located on what was once the site of an old Indian village.

Discovering some evidence of Indian occupation when ground was excavated for the house footing, Jack asked us to have a look, knowing our interest in Delta county's Indian history. Within a few minutes the two of us found a couple hammer stones and some flint chips, both conclusive evidence that Indians once inhabited the place—perhaps beginning many centuries ago.

POPULAR PLACE—In many places in Delta county you will find early white settlements covering the sites of ancient Indian villages.

This only indicates that people the world around look for certain favorable conditions for home sites, and the Indian was no different than his white brother in this regard.

The Indians had a village and gardens where the village of Garden is located and thus the community received its name. Gladstone, Escanaba and Rapid River were once Indian villages.

HARD TO EXPLAIN—There are occasional enigmas in the remaining evidence of ancient Indian occupation in Delta county.

No one has satisfactorily explained, for example, the reason for an Indian painting on rock at the Burnt Bluff caves. The nearest Indian village site is several miles distant and it was not the habit of the Indian to live in caves.

C. L. Harrison and Ray Knutson of the U. S. Forest Service in Escanaba are among those who last weekend saw the caves and the painting for the first time.

Harrison was much impressed by the painting, the only one of its kind in Michigan, but was equally puzzled by the question: What did the Indians use for paint? And what does that paint contain that makes it resist weathering for a century or more?

Yet Cheever Buckbee of Escanaba and Dr. Francis Bacon of Sack Bay report the dark red paint has faded since the first time they saw it some 20 or 25 years ago. The meaning of the painting, or the materials used in it, are yet to be learned.

And if it should turn out to be the scrawling work of a Burnt Bluff farm boy armed with red barn paint, as George Embs suggests, there will be some red faces among local historians.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—All the single men took it on the chin again in a second pistol shoot between two city police teams, finished yesterday, and the winners were guests of the losers at a dinner last night.

Gladstone — Passport legislation which changed the number of years a passport could be legally used from four to three years, is responsible for keeping Mrs. William Ogren of this city an unwilling visitor in Canada.

Manistique—The lobby of the new post-office will be open to patrons to receive their incoming mail Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, Postmaster Frank Gierke announced yesterday. The last day of service at the old postoffice will be Saturday.

20 YEARS AGO

Baton Rouge, La. — Governor Huey P. Long was made a joint defendant in a suit for $25,000 damages filed today in district court by the widow of the Negro convict killed last Monday by guards on the rice farm in Pointe Coupee parish.

Escanaba—Playing splendid golf throughout the entire tournament, Mrs. Charles F. Glavin defeated Mrs. H. H. Shepeck, runner-up, to win the women's championship of the Escanaba Golf club.

New York — George Warner Swenson, Jr., of Houghton, Mich., today was announced the winner of a $4,000 (RCA) opportunity scholarship competition. Announcement of his selection from among 2,500 science students from every state was made by Gen. James C. Harbord, chairman of RCA.

Lansing's Traffic Code Should Be Universal

WHO gets hurt when you run downtown and fix a traffic ticket you got for driving too fast, or maybe for sneaking through a stop sign when you thought you wouldn't get caught?

Nobody, perhaps—until the next time you're in a hurry. You know if you're stopped you can get it quashed, so you try to beat the red light and another car beats you instead; or you forget what the speed-limit sign says, and a little boy suddenly chases his ball out in front of you.

It couldn't happen to you, of course—or could it?

The good citizens of Lansing, Mich., did not think so. Like people anywhere else, they figured paying a traffic fine was all right for the other fellow, but why bother if you had a friend at City Hall?

Then Lansing's city officials began to get uneasy. A record of 21 traffic fatalities and thousands of personal injury and property damage accidents in a city of about 100,000 didn't seem the way it should be.

They called in traffic experts. Their most important single recommendation, Murray Teigh Bloom points out in his ticket-fix survey in Woman's Home Companion, was: "If people know they can fix tickets they're not apt to drive safely. A strict enforcement setup with teeth in it is badly needed."

Despite threats they were committing political suicide. Lansing officials swore off ticket fixing. They put a penalty on it of 90 days in jail or a $100 fine. With the help of the Lansing State Journal, which aired all traffic violations in a daily column, they made it stick.

Today the National Safety Council calls Lansing the safest traffic city in America.

The honor came as the result of the no-fix policy and a new kind of uniform traffic ticket—ideas which have spread to 78 other Michigan cities and many other places.

Each of these, however, is an oasis of safety surrounded by cities and towns where "Nobody's going to get hurt if you fix it" is the blind philosophy. Only New Jersey's non-fix rule embraces the entire state—and it's virtually unbeatable.

Your town—and your state—could have it that way, too. Or would you rather maintain a double standard of those who can fix and those who can't? That way, you'll get to meet the privileged character who does not believe in traffic laws because he knows the right boys. You'll probably meet him when he tries to beat the red light—as you're going through on the green.

Ragweed Will Drive Tourists Away

ONE of our readers came to the office this week with an armful of ragweed he found growing along the side streets and alleys within the city limits of Escanaba.

When the ragweed pollen pollutes the atmosphere, hay fever victims will begin sneezing and suffering their usual torments. For years many Middle West sufferers from this allergy have come to Escanaba and other Upper Peninsula communities to obtain relief from hay fever.

But the Upper Peninsula will not be a haven for hay feverites much longer if the ragweed is permitted to grow and multiply without interference. This particular reader told us he pulls up ragweed whenever he sees it, but the job is too big for him.

He needs the help of many other persons who realize the value of the tourist business to this area and want to do whatever they can to promote it.

Hay fever victims and other tourists will stay a long way from Escanaba once it becomes thoroughly infested with ragweed.

Those Covers

By Gordon Martin

When they drive around your brand new car with decorations lush, and you note the seats upholstered in a very fancy plush, you remark about the beauty that they build in cars today, and the comfort and the class which all the autos now display. Then you load aboard your wife and kids and take them for a ride, but despite your car's performance, you are soon dissatisfied.

For you find those seats, while beautiful with lots of eye appeal, make it quite a job for you to scoot your bulk beneath the wheel. And it isn't long until your wife is offering advice—you should surely buy some covers to preserve the seats so nice. So you drive it to the dealer and some covers there you buy, to protect those fancy cushions which no longer satisfy.

Then you wonder why in heaven's name, for covers you must pay, so's to hide expensive seats which never see the light day. There's enough other things to buy to get your car embossed, with the gadgets which are optional, of course, at extra cost. And you'd ask the auto makers why a car they can't design, which would ditch the plush for covers on their own assembly line?

Manganese Far More Precious Than Gold

By MARQUIS CHILDS.
WASHINGTON — There is one precious metal of which America has an overflowing store. In the vaults at Fort Knox, Kentucky, gold bars are piled rank on rank, probably the greatest treasure in the history of mankind.

CHILDS

But gold is a soft metal. It cannot be used in airplane motors, to line gun barrels or to harden steel. The metals for these purposes are manganese, chrome, vanadium, tungsten. These precious metals are in tragic deficiency in the so-called stock piles ordered to be built up four years ago.

Manganese may well be the most vital of these minerals since it must go into every scrap of steel that is made. In this space recently was a discussion of the difficulties encountered by engineer-promoters seeking to develop domestic sources of manganese ore. Virtually all of America's manganese has been imported from Russia, Africa, Brazil and India.

Urges Adequate Supply

As a result of that column a worried stockholder of the United States Steel corporation wrote a letter of inquiry to Irving S. Olds, chairman of the board. Mr. Olds has been kind enough to send me a copy of his reply. In it he says:

"Everyone connected with the American steel industry would be delighted to see developed any worthwhile manganese ore deposits in this country, which are capable of being developed in a sound and economic manner. Heretofore, most of the few known manganese ore deposits in the United States have been of such low quality, or of such small tonnage as not to be capable of producing manganese ore in competition with better manganese ore obtainable from abroad.

"I have no personal knowledge about the extent of the stockpile of manganese ore which may have been built up by the government. We have on hand in United States Steel a satisfactory supply for our own immediate use. But, this does not mean that we are not vitally concerned with the maintenance, both by the government and by industry, of an adequate supply of good manganese ore for the future."

In March of 1948, R. M. Lloyd, assistant to the vice president of the U. S. Steel corporation, testified before a house committee as to the company's position on manganese. Summing up, he said:

"At this time, because of the current high rate of demand for manganese, substantially all available domestic production and importations are required for consumption and, consequently, any large quantity of ore to be used for stock piling necessarily must come from other than present sources. Such supplementary sources, if they could be developed to some extent domestically, would provide stock pile tonnage, and result at the same time to approaching domestic self-sufficiency with regard to manganese in the United States for the long range future."

New Methods Discouraged
In other words, there is no available manganese for stockpiles. It was all going into the steel being fabricated for automobiles and washing machines. Domestic consumption of steel went to new high levels in the all-out boom this year, so that there would have been even less manganese available than at the time of Lloyd's testimony.

New mining and processing developments were not encouraged. They appear in some instances to have been deliberately discouraged.

Alexander C. Barker, then vice president and director of H. A. Brassert & Co., for over 50 years consulting engineers to the iron and steel industry, outlined before a congressional committee a plan to develop an electrolytic process to produce manganese from low grade ores. The company had private capital for the development. They were only asking that stock piling authorities agree to buy a part of the output. They got nowhere, and the project was abandoned.

W-C Airlines Will Continue

To Operate Until
CAB Takes Action

Wisconsin Central Airlines will be permitted to continue its flight service to Upper Michigan until the Civil Aeronautics board takes action on the airline's application for recertification, even though its present certificate expires Oct. 3, Francis M. Higgins, president of the airline, said yesterday.

Announcement that Wisconsin Central would not have to discontinue operations in Upper Michigan after Oct. 3 was made at a meeting in Green Bay Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was called because the Civil Aeronautics board has denied a route to Detroit and has not renewed Wisconsin Central's franchise.

Denis McGinn and F. W. Schmitt of Escanaba, other members of the U. P. Aviation Progress committee, and representatives from cities on the routes of the two airlines attended.

Plans for improvement of Wisconsin Central service, including purchase of DC-3's and morning flight service from Upper Michigan, will be delayed about six months, Higgins reported yesterday. No changes will be made in the present flight service provided by the company until the CAB approves or denies Wisconsin Central's request for renewal of its franchise.

Nationwide Airlines operates under a state permit and seeks an air mail franchise. A hearing on the nationwide application is to be held in Washington on Oct. 22, it is reported here.

Goodyear Aircraft Builds Huge Blimp

AKRON, O.—(AP)—The Goodyear Aircraft Corp. reported yesterday that it is building the world's largest blimp for the U. S. Navy.

Work on the ship, which will approach zeppelins of World War I in size, is well under way, the company said.

It will cost the Navy about $5,000,000 and will be used mainly in spotting submarines, Goodyear said.

Carrying a crew of 14 men, the ship will be powered by two seven-cylinder engines. Some 875,000 cubic feet of helium will keep it aloft.

U. P. Approves Straits Bridge

Bureau Head Points To Need For Span

Accusing the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau's George E. Bishop of "inertia and lack of enthusiasm" regarding construction of a bridge across the Straits of Mackinac was like waving a red flag in front of a bull.

And it didn't take Harvey Campbell, publisher of "The Detroit Free Press," (weekly publication of the Detroit Board of Commerce), long to learn that the Upper Peninsula in general, and Bishop in particular, have been promoting sentiment for bridge construction for 27 years. In fact, he was informed that the first suggestion for a bridge over the Straits came from the Development Bureau back in 1922.

Why Bridge Is Needed
Why a bridge is necessary at the Straits was told by Bishop in reply to Campbell's statement in his "Detroit Free Press" (and that reply was published by him in full).

He pointed out that inadequate transportation facilities connecting the two peninsulas have hampered the economy of the entire state; that Upper Michigan's buying power has been spent in Milwaukee, Chicago and Indiana because of the reduced cost of transportation; that relief of congestion at the Straits of Mackinac by the addition of a new ferry will be only temporary, and that construction of a bridge would move U. P. cities nearer to Detroit by eliminating delays in crossing.

Construction of a bridge, Bishop added, "will afford opportunity for Michigan people, north of the Straits, to sell and deliver many of their resource materials to and buy products from Michigan's leading industrial centers."

Will Effect Saving
Regaling the feeling of Upper Peninsula residents, whom Campbell accused of "inertia and lack of enthusiasm," Bishop said:

"I believe the majority of the people of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan are back of the bridge project and I believe the Detroit Board of Commerce and all of Michigan's forward-looking citizens in the Lower Peninsula should be enthusiastic supporters of the bridge authority is contemplating, which I am confident will result in findings that will prove that the Straits of Mackinac can be bridged safely from the engineering point of view and that the construction of a bridge at that point will, in the process of time, effect a financial saving to the state of Michigan and its people."

NEWTON OPPOSED

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich.—"We are living in the age of wonders; of bigger and better things; of near-miracles in nearly all lines of endeavor, but unless rock conditions underlying the Straits of Mackinac are better than now appear, construction of a bridge over the Straits, as viewed from an engineering standpoint, is not only impractical—it's impossible." In this manner, George C. Newton, consulting engineer, of Iron Mountain, summarized geological and economic data which he presented at Rotary yesterday, refuting some claims of Governor Williams' Mackinac Straits Bridge Authority as to the feasibility of construction, both from the engineering and economic viewpoint.

His comment was, in part, a reply to—or the other side of—a presentation at a recent meeting of Rotary by William J. Cochran, of Iron Mountain, member of the governor's recently appointed Straits Bridge Authority, in which Cochran outlined the favorable points as brought out in the commission's inquiry.

Australian Soldiers On Way To Korea

TOKYO — (AP)—Australian infantrymen on their way to join United Nations forces in Korea, flew into Japan today.

They are the first contingent of the Australian expeditionary force. Their number was not reported.

A spokesman for the British commonwealth occupation forces declined to comment on when they would go to the battlefield.

Burglaries Solved

JACKSON — (AP)—Arrest of two 15-year-old youths who tried to use a rifle to free a teen-aged girl from a juvenile detention home Wednesday also solved three recent burglaries in the Traverse City area. Police said the youths told them they had planned to take the girl to another city and find work. The pair readily admitted the robberies, officers added.

Weed seeds comprise an important part of the diet of wild bird life.

Paving Program May Be Delayed

Materials Are Slow In Arriving Here

Asphalt paving scheduled for some city streets in Escanaba this summer may not be completed until next spring because of delay in receiving delivery on an asphalt plant and an asphalt paving machine, A. V. Aronson, city manager reported today.

The asphalt plant was ordered two months ago and the paving machine a month ago. They were to be delivered by Sept. 1, for use by city crews during the month of September, the manager said. Delay in receiving the asphalt machines is probably due to the defense program he explained.

Work on curb and drainage facilities on projects scheduled for this summer should be completed by the end of September, Aronson said this morning. If the machines arrive in time, city workmen will lay some asphalt paving on the streets next month.

Curb and drainage work on Fourth avenue south will be completed early next week. City crews then will begin work on one block on Fifth avenue south, two blocks on Ninth avenue south, and on three blocks on First avenue north. Later curb and drainage work will be started on North 12th avenue.

Shepherd And His Dog Walk 2,900 Miles

Looking For Work

PHILADELPHIA — (AP)—A 35-year-old shepherd and his dog walked 2,900 miles from Seattle, Wash., to Philadelphia looking for work.

Andrew Boehm arrived at the 54th St. and Haverford Ave. fire house with his dog, Shep. The shepherd, who said he had worn out eight pairs of socks and three pairs of shoes in his cross country hike, was crestfallen to learn there are few calls for sheep herders in the Philadelphia area.

Boehm said he had hoped to find a job here so that he could earn money for a trip to Germany to visit his mother. Despite the pessimistic report of job openings, he said he will make an effort to locate work.

Big State Fair Opens Friday

Betty Hutton Rides With Governor

DETROIT — (AP)—The Michigan State Fair, America's oldest, opens its gates tomorrow noon to amuse and educate an estimated million people over the next ten days.

The customary variety of attractions—and a little more—will be there. There will be displays of prize animals and farm produce, a mammoth and noisy midway and a number of educational exhibits.

In the way of special features, there will be movie stars Betty Hutton and Carmen Miranda, the U. S. Army band, a rodeo featuring John Mack Brown, interpretive dancer Nirska and fan dancer Sally Rand.

A giant parade, led by the famed Army band, will move up Woodward Avenue from the Detroit river to the fairgrounds preying the ribbon-cutting ceremony at 12:30 p. m. Gov. Williams will ride in a lead car with Miss Hutton.

Purchased Michigan cattle, sheep and swine will compete for $100,000 in prize money. Among the exhibits will be the first one of Red Dane cattle, a breed being pioneered in northeastern Michigan in the area between Tawas City and Harrisville.

Half fare transportation has been arranged by railroads and buslines in an effort to induce more persons to come to the fair from outstate.

Pershing Guns Nip Korean Red Push

Americans reopened the road north from the threatened port of the sea of Japan.

They moved from three to four miles north of the city beyond the spot where an enemy roadblock Thursday had made it impassable.

Outside of Waegwan, 12 miles northwest of Taegu, U. S. 1st cavalry division troops in small numbers missed capturing a 1,700-foot hill by 200 feet. They were repulsed by a small force of entrenched Reds.

The North Koreans were reported losing 1,000 men a day in the drive on Pohang mounted by 26,000 men.

The air force estimated it killed 1,200 North Koreans in strafing and bombing attacks on the frontlines at Pohang. Seven hundred Red dead were counted in one sector and 500 more in another.

Reckless spending of men's lives moved the Communists within three miles of the city. But they were far behind schedule—to kick United Nations troops clear out of Korea by the target time of midnight.

A staff officer at General MacArthur's headquarters said stout resistance by South Korean units balked the Reds before Pohang, the Allies' No. 2 port and supply city.

Fleet Finds Target
The raking fire of American warships in the harbor moved down the attackers by the score.

The spokesman said the Communists had set 6 a. m. Wednesday as a new deadline for taking the city which they won and lost again 10 days ago.

Jellied gasoline bombs, rockets and machinegun bullets were poured into the Pohang besiegers by U. S. and Australian planes.

The crucial battle gained impetus at 2 a. m. Thursday (11 a. m. EST Wednesday) by an attack by 26,000 Red troops.

It took them all day to gain a few yards against the weary South Koreans and Americans.

Invaded Bess Down
Only a few hours before big American Pershing tanks and U. S. infantrymen helped the South Koreans push back the Reds a mile or more. The Communists had got within rifle shot of the port.

A companion drive from the northwest was bogged at Kiyie, nine miles away from Pohang. In hours of bitter fighting, the Communists had not gained at Kiyie.

The South Korean Capitol division weathered a smashing artillery attack to stave off the northwestern approach. They still held the hills outside of Kiyie, prize city to the west along the 120-mile-long battlefield.

The far east air forces said 700 dead North Koreans were found heaped west of Kiyie by advancing troops.

Blast By Malik Awaited In UN

By STANLEY JOHNSON

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—Jakob A. Malik's monthly session of the United Nations security council ends today.

For the 31 days of August the Russian delegate has used the presidency to hamstringing council consideration of the Korean war and explode propaganda blasts against the United States and the other western democracies.

Observers expect him to fire his biggest gun today's session (2 p. m. EST) but don't know what he'll use for ammunition. They are sure, however, that Malik will not turn over the chair to Britain's suave Sir Gladwyn Jebb, September president, without one final propaganda barrage.

Malik has indicated he will continue to attend council meetings after his presidency ends. But if the quarters point out that his freedom to obstruct council business will be curtailed with a westerner in the chair.

Mayor Of Dearborn Ready To Go To Jail—After Labor Day

WINDSOR, Ont.—(AP)—Close to home—and a process server—the mayor of Dearborn, Mich., U. S. A., still isn't alarmed.

Today, for example, he gallantly announced he'd be ready to go to jail, after Labor day.

On a self-styled exile, Dearborn Mayor Orville L. Hubbard has faithfully set up shop in Windsor as he promised.

"I'm going to go back to Dearborn after Labor day," he said. "If they want to take me to jail, then I'll go to jail."

Hubbard is in default of a $7,500 bail judgment which he says he hasn't the money to pay. His creditor, Attorney John Fish, wants to put him in jail on a body attachment.

Absent from Dearborn office several weeks while on a Canadian tour, Hubbard now runs affairs from a hotel room here.

Service Allotment Bill Sent To Senate

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A compromise bill to provide for allotments to dependents of servicemen was passed by the House by voice vote today and sent to the Senate.

It provides allotments ranging from $85 to $165 monthly to families of servicemen who are not officers. This includes deductions ranging from $40 to $80 from the serviceman's monthly paycheck. The government puts up the balance.

The total cost to the federal government between August 1 of this year and June 30 of next year has been estimated at $300,000,000.

O'ander May Get Civil Defense Job

Huron) persuaded the House Ways and Means committee, of which he is a member, to appropriate $100,000 for civilian defense but to give it to the state police instead of the state civilian defense council.

The theory behind this apparently was that if Leonard had the spending of the OCD appropriation Williams would not be able to name another man OCD director.

The Senate balked, contending that state law gives the governor power to appoint the civilian defense director and that the legislature could not distort that law by an appropriation measure.

Senate G.O.P. leaders said that Williams asked them to specify a salary for the OCD director in the appropriation bill as an indication of the legislature's belief that the two jobs should be held by separate men. Leonard now draws no additional salary as OCD director.

Governor Under Pressure

The Republican leaders said Williams told them he wanted to appoint Olander to the defense post and that he had been under strong pressure from Republican and Democrats alike to name Olander to that position.

The Senate kinsmen said they refused to "take Williams off the hook" unless he publicly asked the legislature to set a salary for the OCD director.

"Otherwise," said one senator, "we would merely be giving Williams a chance to say the Republican legislature kicked Leonard out."

The Senate won its point and the $100,000 went to the civil defense council without any strings attached.

As early as last spring Williams showed a marked coolness to Leonard at the formation of the civilian defense council. He went out of his way to make it clear that Leonard was only acting director and repeatedly sought to keep the reins out of Leonard's hands.

Members of the new council, apparently unaware of the governor's thinking, kept repeatedly turning to Leonard for advice on defense matters. Capitol correspondents wrote news stories that Williams was gunning for Leonard.

Insiders claim that Williams has several times considered Olander, a Republican, for a place in his administration.

Olander resigned in 1946 after 20 years as state police head at the request of former Governor Kim Sigler.

Open Spalding Schools Sept. 5

Two-Day Teachers Meeting Planned

Spalding township public schools will open Tuesday, Sept. 5 with a two-day teachers conference, and students will report for classes Sept. 7. William Sharon, superintendent, announces.

Teachers will meet at the new school in Spalding for conference sessions on Tuesday and at Menominee for the Wednesday meetings.

School buses in the township will run on the same schedule as last year, on Central Standard time, beginning Thursday, Sept. 7. Students will be dismissed at noon the first day, and do not need to bring lunches.

Four new teachers are on the faculty this year. They are John Theurkauf, Colleen Lezotte, Evelyn Collins and Robert Seering.

Four years ago the school system had a faculty of 12, and since that time 10 new teachers and supervisors have been added. This has enabled the school to expand its athletic, educational, vocational and community services programs, the superintendent reports.

The new building which was completed last year will accommodate grades four through twelve. The new addition, which is expected to be completed before the beginning of the second semester, will have facilities for shop, vocational agriculture, hot lunch and the first four grades, kindergarten through the third.

An extra janitor and bus driver have been added, due to building expansion and higher enrollment. The school, which was class E in 1946, now is rated in middle class D.

The faculty for the coming year is as follows: William Sharon, superintendent. Mary Girard, principal and English teacher.

Zigmund Shesky, athletic director, mathematics and physical science.

Edward Wiecech, natural science, driver education, social science, junior basketball.

Mrs. Marie Eisenzoph, home economics.

Gerald Anzalone, commercial and football.

Robert Seering, band, guidance, summer recreation and band.

Irving Dufresne, shop, baseball and assistant basketball coach.

John Theurkauf, vocational agriculture.

Mrs. Evelyn Collins, special education.

Mrs. Rose Cory, 6th grade.

Mrs. Gladys DePas, 5th grade.

Mrs. Marie Kleimola, 4th grade.

Minnie Peterson, 3rd grade.

Choral and grade music.

LaVerne Johnson, 2nd grade.

Colleen Lezotte, 1st grade.

Jean Dufresne, kindergarten.

Mrs. Mildred Munson, adult education.

Ruark Gripes

Only One Out Of 4,000 Medic Students Enlist

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—Oh, doctor dear, I bleed for thee, but I do not bleed very profusely. Just a slight trickle, and don't bother with the tourniquet. It'll stop in a minute. We notice that the Senate is accented a bill to draft some of the 4,000 short-order sawbones who beat the last unpleasantness by remaining in college at government expense to sop up materia medica while grayhaired brain surgeons were swabbing athletes' feet in odd places, and obstetricians were ministering to Pacific rot.

RUARK

Of this number, 4,000—exactly one man had volunteered for service at last reading—and so we got to squeeze a swiftly through Congress to get enough doctors to bind a wound without calling up physicians who have already spent their time in the last ratrace. One man out of 4,000. I am reminded slightly of the tramp athletes who found a snug harbor at the military academies during WW Two, to bleed and die upon the football fields—and to take off as soon as the peace was signed to play pro football for bigger dough. Quite A Stunt fates in the dear departed conflict than a government-subsidized technical education, which kept you out of the foxholes and off the destroyers and stuffed your skulls with expensive book-larnin'. It costs a sight to build a doctor, even in peace-time. To beat a draft and knock off a free medical education is quite a feat. Like the man said, once, there is no such thing as a free lunch. What you take out you got to put back. The man says put it back, now, and one guy out of 4,000 volunteers, even though the volunteers get an extra $100 a month. Why the bonus I couldn't say, any more than I can understand the area bonuses and the penalty-cargo bonuses the merchant marine got in the last one. A man is a man, when he goes to war, and is no more worthy of special benefit than any other man in his same military grade. I rattle slightly, here, remembering that as a commissioned officer in the navy I made 40 per cent less dough than a Chinese messboy on a merchant ship on which I served.

There were considerably worse

A Debt To Repay

The doctors who got educated in time of actual war have a debt to repay comparable to no other classification I can think of off-hand. The tragedy of war to others was to them a decisive boom—complete safety, the pleasures of the home front, and a gratis education that runs into thousands of dollars. They received a bonus for being civilian students while their contemporaries suffered from small to large degree, up to and including death. These men literally owe their profession, their immediate livelihood, to other men's blood. They sweated over anatomy and carved up the corpses of nameless stiffs when their established seniors were living dangerously and unpleasantly and, God knows, frantically on what the services paid in the last war.

Some Exceptions

Possibly the best bone-man in the country once fashioned me a new arm, on a mess table in the Solomons jungle, out of a few old nails and nuts and bolts, using a portable X-ray. He was a lieutenant-commander, at about $400 a month, when his Chicago practice would have brought him thrice that each week. He was, I recall, 3-A all the time, and indispensable to boot, but he came along for the ride. The same applies to most of the grizzled medics I met.

Twenty thousand students got enrolled in the army's specialized training program. Twelve thousand went on active reserve duty. With the exception of our present 3,999—zombies, the rest flunked out for physical or intellectual reasons.

I am generally reticent about waving a flag over other folk's heads, but this is one group I wouldn't ween for if they all got drafted on private pay. They had it awful easy when a lot of other guys had it awful tough. They owe us some interest on the loan.

Lucia A. Tobin Is The Bride Of John Boonenberg

SENEY — At an altar colorfully decorated with mixed floral bouquets, Miss Lucia A. Tobin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Tobin of Seney, became the bride of John A. Boonenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Boonenberg of Seney, on Saturday, August 26.

The 10 a. m. ceremony was performed at St. Theresa's church at Germfask by Rev. Fr. John Beloit.

Miss Corinne Bernier, soloist, sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" at the offertory and "Because" before the mass. The organist, Mrs. Henry Hebert, played traditional bridal music. Kathryn Shedia, Peggy Phalen and Jeanette Deloria of Nahma sang the mass.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown of nylon marquisette over taffeta, styled with a fitted bodice, high collar, long tapered sleeves and a court train. Her fingertip veil of imported French illusion was held in place by a band of braided illusion. She carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli centered with a single orchid.

Bridal Aides
The maid of honor, Miss Marion Boonenberg, sister of the groom, wore a gown of lavender lace over taffeta, styled like that of the bride. Her headpiece was cloche style. Her bouquet was of yellow gladioli.

The bridesmaids, Miss Betty Hruska of Nahma and Miss Claire Schwartz of Detroit wore matching gowns of silk organza over taffeta. The identical gowns of yellow and Nile green were styled with gathered skirts, fitted bodices, low necklines and puff sleeves. They wore matching cloche headpieces and carried matching colonial bouquets.

The little flower girl, Beth Tobin, sister of the bride, wore a floor length dress of white net over taffeta and a shoulder length veil. The ring bearer, Vernon Watson, wore a navy blue suit and carried the ring on a white taffeta pillow decorated with flowers.

Attending Mr. Boonenberg was the bride's brother, Tom Tobin. Ushers were Charles and Jim Ebert of Detroit, cousins of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tobin chose a navy blue crepe dress with navy accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds. Mrs. Boonenberg wore a navy print with navy accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds. A wedding breakfast was served to the wedding party and members of the immediate families. A reception for 100 guests was held at Blaney Park from two p. m. to five p. m.

Home In Detroit
The newlyweds, whose honeymoon destination was undisclosed, will live in Detroit where the groom is employed by the Ford Motor company. The bride chose a navy sheer dress with navy and white accessories for her wedding trip. The bride, former Nahma resident, attended Michigan State college. Mr. Boonenberg attended Michigan State college and Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton.

Out of town guests at the wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ebert and sons, Charles and Jim, Mrs. George Ferris, Detroit; Mrs. Stella Lenberg and son, Stewart, Grand Rapids; Miss Elaine Smith and Miss Marion Boonenberg, Marion, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Meyers, Mrs. Anna Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hendrickson, Mr. and Mrs. George Bay, Munising; Mrs. Charles Beaulieu, Mrs. Polly Pelletier and daughter, Sue, and Miss Carrie Neff and her mother, Newberry.

WITH ICE CAPADES — Glenna Fallmer, well known Escanaba skater, is now a member of the Ice Capades which is currently performing in Atlantic City. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Fallmer of Escanaba. Glenna joined the Ice Capades two weeks ago, being notified at Sault Ste. Marie where she was training at the Pullar Stadium. She skated in the show the first night she arrived in Atlantic City, and is now participating in several production numbers, and rehearsing for a new show as well. The show moves to Raleigh, N. C. on September 3.

New Restaurant Will Open Here

A new restaurant in Escanaba, the Stone House at 2223 Ludington street, will be opened here Friday by Mr. and Mrs. Ted Breitenbach of this city.

Free coffee, ice cream, cookies and cakes will be served during the open house Friday from 3 to 7 p. m. The new restaurant, with coffee shop and dining room, will be staffed with 10 waitresses and will offer full dinners and short orders.

The new eating establishment is housed in a large Lanon stone building constructed here this summer. Breitenbach formerly operated a grocery store on Sheridan road, in partnership with his brother.

Invitational Held
Thursday At
Highland Golf Club

The Highland Golf Club entertained women of the Gladstone Golf club and the Escanaba Golf and Country club at an invitational tournament yesterday.

Activities of the day opened with a breakfast at 9 followed by opening rounds. Dinner was served at the club house at 1 and was followed by golf and canasta and bridge with prize for winners in all events.

The club house was attractively decorated with fall flowers for the affair, and the Indian motif was effectively used in combination with the floral theme. Committee members and guests wore Indian headaddresses and birch bark canoes filled with evergreens and flowers formed the table centerpieces.

The day's events closed with a tea, with Mrs. I. R. Peterson and Mrs. G. E. Christie presiding at the beautifully appointed table. Mrs. Grover Lewis was general chairman of the day.

Prize winners in golf and cards were:

Low gross for the day, Miss Carolyn Johnson, Highland
Low net for the day, Mrs. Francis Boyce, Escanaba, Country Club
Low gross for Gladstone, Mrs. Sally Johnson

Low net for Gladstone, Mrs. Evelyn Skellenger

High score for Gladstone, Mrs. Elmer Beaudry

Low gross for Escanaba Country club, Mrs. Paul Wohlen

Low net for Escanaba Country club, Mrs. Dick Knopp

High for Escanaba Country club, Mrs. Earl Ness

Low gross for Highland, Mrs. Wesley Hansen

Low net for Highland, Mrs. John Cass

High for Highland, Mrs. Harry Elmer

Mystery prizes, Mrs. Jean Smith and Mrs. Ed Moersch

Low gross for nine holes, Mrs. Don Lemire

Low net for nine holes, Mrs. G. E. Christie

Bridge prizes, Mrs. C. C. Anderson, Mrs. H. J. Hucksenhauer, Mrs. Ed Schwartz

Entrance Regulations
Regulations governing children who are entering school for the first time have been issued as follows by Supt. H. A. Wood:

Kindergarten: No child will be admitted to any kindergarten in the Munising Township schools unless he or she will be five years old on or before November 30 of the school year in which he or she enrolls. New pupils will not be accepted in any kindergarten after October 1st of any school year unless they enter by transfer from another school system where they have been in regular attendance.

First Grade: The regulations above apply to first grade pupils, except that a child to enter first grade must be a year older than the age stated above for kindergarten. The compulsory school age now begins at six years old. These regulations were adopted by the Board of Education, April 28, 1950, to conform with state regulations on the payment of state aid.

There will be kindergarten at Washington school in the morning for all pupils in that area. Both Lincoln and Mather kindergartens will be operated both morning and afternoon. All kindergarten children living from Lynn street west are to attend Lincoln school. Those from Lynn street east will attend Mather school. All children, whose family names start with the letters A to L, inclusive, are to attend in the morning. Those whose family names start with M to Z, inclusive, are to attend in the afternoon. This division applies only to Lincoln and Mather kindergartens.

Van Meer and Wetmore schools will be operated for grades 1 to 4, and Shingleton school, grades 1 to 6.

The first day of school buses will operate as they did last year. When transportation loads have been determined, then corrections will be made.

Congregational, Sunday school at 10 a. m.

Keith Campbell Sketch Subject

An interesting sketch on Keith B. Campbell, London, Eng., formerly of Gladstone, appeared in the U K Eagle, a service publication which reached the Lackenheath Base where it was seen and sent home by Cpl. Dan Lynch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lynch, city, who is stationed at that base, about 50 miles from London.

A picture of Mr. Campbell at his desk illustrated the story.

The story follows: "Mr. Keith B. Campbell, last week took over his duties as the new Assistant to the Civilian Personnel Officer, 3rd Air Division."

"As the principal aid to Capt. V. F. Ricci, Civilian Personnel Officer, Mr. Campbell will coordinate all civilian personnel activities within the command, set up procedures for administrative practices, and keep his office up to date with all current regulations and policies as laid down by the Department of the Air Force and the Civil Service Commission."

"Mr. Campbell is a native of Gladstone, Mich., and a graduate of the University of Michigan."

"From 1936 to 1943 he taught English at Gladstone High School. Entering the Service in 1943 he was assigned to the Air Force and was stationed at Orlando, Fla., with the headquarters of the 116th School Squadron."

"After being discharged in the Fall of 1945, he entered the Civil Service as Personnel Officer, Office Chief, Employee Utilization Unit, 14th Air Force at Orlando. In October, 1949, he became Placement Officer at the Long Range Proving Ground, Cocoa, Fla., where he remained until his transfer to the 3rd Air Division."

Ask Holmberg To Quit Property

City Seeks Possession Of Disputed Plot

Another step in the City of Gladstone's action to determine who is the rightful owner of a piece of shore property near the Yacht club held by George Holmberg is being taken this week.

Notice to quit signed by City Clerk H. J. Henriksen and Mayor George Mathison is being served on Holmberg. If compliance is not made within 30 days further legal action will be taken.

The property in question was purchased by the City of Gladstone in 1913 and was used as a base of a commercial fishing business by the late Fred Holmberg and his son George.

The city contends it had a rental agreement with the Holmbergs but that for some years now the rental, one dollar per year, has not been paid.

Holmberg claims squatters rights to the property. He has offered to sell it to the city or in the event the site is to be used for hotel, hospital or industrial purposes to deed it free to the city.

Two Local Police To Attend Shoot

Authorization to attend and participate in the Michigan police pistol shoot in lower Michigan on Sept. 14 was granted Chief of Police Torval Kallerson and Officer Jim Norrick by the city commission in meeting this week.

Further discussion on the proposed zoning ordinance was made but no formal action was taken on the matter.

Wednesday A. M.Nearby Car Pilfered
During The Night

State police have been called upon to investigate two incidents along Deer street in the early hours of Wednesday morning, one involving the theft of an automobile and the other the breaking into of a parked car.

The stolen car a black '36 Dodge belonged to Frank Rubick, 305 Walnut street. It was stolen while parked along Deer street.

The car from which goods was pilfered belonged to J. Pilecki, who with his wife, were guests that night at the Gardner hotel. The car which was parked on a lot in back of the West Side Fruit Market, had a faulty lock on one of its doors which the prowler evidently opened with ease.

Some wearing apparel belonging to Mrs. Pilecki were the chief items taken. Mr. Pilecki's clothes were not disturbed and a valuable camera was also left behind. The loss amounts to about $80. A bag of fruit had been opened and the thief had helped himself to the bananas it contained, but left the oranges.

Catholic Church

The St. Francis de Sales church was beautifully decorated with banks of pink and white gladioli for an 11:15 service Saturday morning in which Helen Frances Chernesky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chernesky, became the bride of Richard Lee Fiegel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Fiegel. Fr. F. M. Scherlinger performed the wedding ceremony with Geraldine Gorsche, organist, playing the traditional wedding music.

Serving as maid-of-honor was Theresa McNamara and Betty Chernesky, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid. Attending the groom were Willard Chernesky and Harold Barton. Elaine Chernesky was flower girl and ushers were Jerome McNamara and Don Lancour.

The bride wore a stunning off-the-shoulder gown of white satin covered with marquisette with a yoke also of white marquisette. She carried a white prayer book with a gardenia, white baby mums and white streamers. Miss McNamara wore a gown of yellow satin, and Betty Chernesky wore a gown of aqua satin. They carried similar colonial bouquets.

Mrs. Chernesky chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue dress with grey accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Fiegel wore a navy dress with navy accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

A wedding breakfast was served to the wedding party at the Paul Bunyan Cook Camp. A reception was held for about 150 guests at the Chernesky home at 4 in the afternoon. Immediately following the couple left for a wedding trip to an unannounced destination.

The bride is a graduate of Manistique high school and is employed at the DMC store. The groom is also a graduate of MHS and is employed on the S. S. Joseph Block on the Great Lakes.

A report of those who recently passed their physical examinations for induction into the armory services was made public Wednesday by the local draft board office.

It is revealed that nine of the twenty-eight Schoolcraft county young men who took their pre-induction physicals at Escanaba last week made the grade. They will be subject to a draft call some time in September. The young men are:

Ralph C. Nelson, Herbert C. Roddy, Roland P. Landwehr, Roland J. Carefelle, Harold E. Beckman and Lloyd E. Swayer, all of Manistique; William T. Tobin of Seney; James E. Lytle, Germfask and Roger T. Carley, Cooks.

Movie To Be Shown
At Bethel Church

"Dust or Destiny," is the title of a moving picture to be shown at the Bethel Baptist church Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The star performer in the production is Mickey—a bat. Mickey furnishes the cameraman with a thrilling proof that radar is the bat's secret guide to night flying. But Mickey isn't the only star in "Dust or Destiny." A bird that flies non-stop from Labrador to Argentina, a fish that lays eggs on dry land, and even a close-up of the human heart, are also featured in the film. "Dust or Destiny" is fourth in a series of motion pictures combining science and religion.

Briefly Told

OES Meeting—There will be a meeting of Ida Chapter, Order of Eastern Star next Saturday evening. Members urged to be present. Visitors welcome.

Masonic—There will be a regular communication of Lakeside Lodge F. & A. M. Monday evening.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Chernesky of Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kasbohm of Gladstone, Mr. and Mrs. Al Wagner of Gulliver and Willard Chernesky and Harold Barton from Flint.

Schools Undergo
Much Improvement
During Vacation

Although no building program has been conducted by the Manistique Public school system in the past year, there has been a sizeable maintenance program going on during the vacation months.

The following improvements have been made or will be completed before the opening of school next Tuesday:

Lincoln School—The walls and ceilings of the class rooms and corridors have been washed and painted. Outside window sills, and entrances painted.

Lakeside Schools—Window sills, halls and entrances painted. New ceilings and upper walls of nursery school installed in two class rooms, and three class rooms painted.

The fifth grade room has been equipped with new movable desks. New doors with windows are being installed in the south entrance.

Central Buildings — Library walls and ceiling washed and painted. Cement walk laid from rear of senior high school to the heating plant. Work bench with locker space for art classes built the full length of the north end of room 37. New lighting for the Junior high school gym installed by Martin Electric Company. Four ply pitch gravel roof on Junior high school gym and two-ply asphalt on the senior high building.

Tigers Lose League Lead For First Time In Three Months

WASHINGTON — (AP)—For the first time in nearly three months, the Detroit Tigers are out of the American league lead.

And Tiger rooters, from Manager Red Rolfe down, know well that only a snappy improvement in pitching can get the Bengals back on top.

Yesterday's split of a two-night doubleheader with Washington while the New York Yankees were blasting Cleveland twice climaxed a series of Detroit reverses and gave New York a one-game edge.

The Tigers' poor clutch hitting and some over-ambitious base-running cost Freddie Hutchinson a 3-2 11-inning decision in the opener against the Senators.

In the second game Rolfe had to use four pitchers to win 10-8 even after Detroit had piled up a five-run lead in the first three innings. Rookie Ray Herbert, last of the quartet, got credit for his first major league triumph.

Houtteman vs. Beardon
Rolfe picked Art Houtteman to go against Gene Beardon today and try to get the Tigers an even split in the four-game Washington series.

Houtteman's recent performances have been spotty, but he's still one of the top men in a stumbling Detroit pitching staff. He has 17 victories and 10 defeats.

Hal Newhouser and Hutch both have been hot and cold in recent weeks. Hank Borowy, Marlin Stuart, Hal White and Herbert all lacked effectiveness yesterday. Paul Trout had developed a sore arm and Teddy Gray and Virgil Trucks still are on the sick list.

But it was not the fault of pitching that the Tigers lost the first game yesterday and tumbled out of the top spot they had held since June 10.

Hutchinson had allowed only five hits up to the fatal 11th and the Tigers had made 10. In the final frame Mickey Vernon led off with a double and Sam Rice was passed intentionally. Cas Michaels forced Vernon at third, but Sam Dente lashed a single to left to drive in Mele with the winning run.

The Tigers put together four hits for two runs in the fourth, and might have put the game away in regulation time if they had been more conservative on the bases.

Pat Mullin singled, Vic Wertz flied out and Johnny Groth sent Mullin to third with a base hit to center. Johnny Lipon scored Mullin with a double. Jerry Priddy singled to center and Groth came in, but Lipon was cut down at the plate when he tried to score and Priddy was out trying to move to second on the throw to the plate.

The rest of the way Sandalia Consuegra held Detroit scoreless and won his sixth victory.

Tigers Rally to Win

Two good rallies, for three runs in the second and four markers in the third, gave Detroit a 7-2 lead in the second game. The Senators came back with one run off Borowy in their half of the third, then got to Stuart and White for three tallies in the sixth. Two more runs off White in the seventh put the Tigers one score in the hole.

Groth opened the ninth with a single and Lipon doubled. A single to left by Priddy scored both, and Jerry later came in when Don Kolloway got his fourth hit of the game. That was the winning margin.

In all, the Tigers socked 16 hits off five Washington hurlers and hung the defeat on rookie Jim Pearce.

Philadelphia Eagles Batter Rams, 49-14
LOS ANGELES — (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams picked up the pieces of their broken football team today and the television sponsor of National football league games here had reason to worry. The mighty Philadelphia Eagles shattered the Rams, 49 to 14, and played every minute like the champions they are.

The Rams, prior to the season, expected no less than 50,000. Under their contract with the TV sponsor, their losses on the basis of past attendance figures must be made up.

U. P. Football Starts This Week

The Upper Peninsula high school football season will open this weekend with at least six games. Most of the U. P. teams, however, will not get their baptismal action of the 1950 season until next week.

Games scheduled this week include Ironwood at Kingsford and Munising at Sault Ste. Marie Friday night, Iron River at Bessemer, Calumet at Hancock and Stambaugh at Negaunee Saturday afternoon, Ishpeming at Manistique Saturday night.

There are two important changes in high school football rules for the 1950 season:

- 1—Any player may recover and advance a backward pass or fumble;
- 2—Any kick, including a free-kick, becomes dead when it touches something on or behind the receiver's goal line.

These changes will mean that a player of either team may advance a fumbled ball and that it will be impossible for a member of the team kicking off to recover the ball in the end zone for a touchdown.

The new 19-year age rule becomes effective with the beginning of the 1950 football season. It was adopted by the State Association Representative Council in 1948 and provides that any student who has reached his nineteenth birthday prior to September 1, 1950, is ineligible for this sport. If his birthday is September 1 or thereafter he may finish any fall sport the season of which is concluded not later than January 1, 1951.

There are similar provisions for the winter and spring sports with the 19-year birthday dates for them being November 1 and March 1, respectively. Surveys have shown that the new rule will affect only 1.3 percent of the boys in Michigan high schools. The average age of Michigan high school football players last year was 16 years, 2 months; basketball, 16 years, 1 month; and baseball and track, 16 years, 6 months. The average age of graduation from Michigan high schools is 17 years, 6 months. Michigan will be the 19th state to have a 19-year age rule in effect this year.

Opener At Manistique
MANISTIQUE — Manistique Emeralds and Ishpeming will clash in the season's opener on the local gridiron Saturday evening.

What may be expected by way of results is something the Emeralds coach, John Vieregger, declines to say. His players are

All Contenders Hit By Injuries

Leading AL Teams Patch Up Lineups

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK — (AP)—The four American league pennant contenders were ready today to fight it out to the last bottle of arnica.

Bailing wire and gauze became standard equipment as the junior circuit moved into the killing stretch drive. "The only thing that can beat us is injuries," said Cleveland Manager Lou Boudreau, who saw another of his front line men felled yesterday—the third in two days.

They were also patching them up in the camps of the Detroit Tigers, New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox.

Luke Easter, Cleveland's huge first baseman, was hurt in a collision with Yankee Pitcher Ed Ford in the first game of the doubleheader at Yankee stadium. Luke came up with a charley horse.

The versatile Boudreau had to take over first while Ray Boone, hurt the day before, had to be called off the hospital shelf to play short.

Hoot Sprains Wrist
Easter joins two other Indians on the injured list. Second Baseman Bob Avila pulled a thigh muscle Tuesday and is out a week. Outfielder Larry Doby is out with a chronic leg ailment.

The Tigers, running into more than their share of late season grief, saw Outfielder Hoot Evers benched for a week or ten days when he ran into a fence while chasing a fly ball in practice at Washington Tuesday night. He sprained his wrist.

Detroit Pitchers Virgil Trucks and Ted Gray are nursing sore arms at the time they're most needed. Shortstop Johnny Lipon is playing with a spike wound and Outfielder Vic Wertz is going through his paces with a metal shin plate.

Boston's crack shortstop, Vern Stephens, is out of action temporarily with a pulled muscle and the Red Sox are still waiting for the return of Ted Williams, their great run-producer who broke an elbow in the all-star game. The Yankees, who rode out a phenomenal succession of injuries last year to win the championship, have troubles coming in smaller doses—but coming, just the same.

Tommy Henrich's knee still bothers him. Ford was just shaken up a bit by yesterday's collision with Easter and, while he retired from the game, he is expected to be okay.

Outfielder Gene Woodling was banged by a thrown ball in batting drill yesterday and Cliff Mape was used in his stead.

But the Yankees can't complain. Last year they had a total of some 80 separate injuries. They're still "arnica champs."

Beaudry Of Detroit Loses To St. Louis

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. — (AP)—Rained out yesterday, the St. Louis and Detroit contestants in the National American Legion junior baseball tournament may have to play two games tonight to decide the section C title.

The St. Louis Stockham Post won the first game in the best of three series 3-2 in ten innings Tuesday.

If Detroit's Beaudry post squad takes the opener tonight, another game will be necessary to determine the winner. The sectional champion will go to the national finals at Omaha next week.

LEMON-AID — The Cleveland club has two Bob Lemons now that the big outfielder, inset, has joined the great pitcher with the Indians. They are not related. The youngster hit 39 home runs in the Texas League. To avoid confusion, they call him Jim.

Hunches Help Yanks Beat Indians Twice

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

If Casey Stengel fell into a city sewer he would probably come up owning an oil well.

The puckish pilot of the New York Yankees, who incidentally owns several oil wells, is one of the canniest managers in the business. He also is a great guy for hunches.

Hunches that clicked helped the Yankees sweep a doubleheader from Cleveland yesterday and boost them to the top in the seething American league race.

The Yankees needed some clutch hitting by Johnny Mize, Phil Rizzuto and Tommy Henrich. The fine pitching of Tom Ferrick and Ed Lopat also played a large part in the 4-3 and 3-0 victories that gave them a one-game lead over the Detroit Tigers.

But if Casey hadn't followed his hunches those things might never have happened.

2 Homers For Mize
Until an hour before play began, Stengel wasn't sure whether he was going to play Mize at first base. Then Stengel recalled that Mize had hit a couple of homers off Bob Keller, who was due to pitch for Cleveland in the opener.

All the former Giant slugger did was slam a pair of homers, one in each game. He also collected two singles and drew the walk in the eighth inning that eventually turned out to be the winning run.

Hunch No. 2 came in the eighth inning of the first game. Eddie Ford, the little lefthander, was shaken up in a collision with Cleveland's Luke Easter.

Stengel thought Ford was favoring his right side. He promptly replaced Ford with Tom Ferrick. The veteran reliever proceeded to stop the Indians cold the rest of the way as the Yankees broke a 3-3 tie in their half of the eighth.

Hunch No. 3 came in the same bottom half of the eighth. Mize had walked. Stengel sent in Joe Collins as a pinch runner. After Hank Bauer flied out, Collins stole second. That necessitated an intentional pass to set up a possible double play. Casey sent in Henrich as a pinch hitter, and he singled to score Collins with the winning run.

Stengel didn't need to resort to hunches in the second game as Eddie Lopat throttled the Tribe with six singles. It was Lopat's fifth straight over Cleveland this season.

Boston Beats Chicago
The Yanks one game margin was accomplished when Washington's Senators held the slumping Tigers to a split in their doubleheader.

The Senators won the opener in 11 innings, 2-2, when Sam Dente singled off Fred Hutchinson to score Sam Mele.

The Tigers had to tally three runs in the ninth to come from behind and win the second game, 10-8. Successive hits by Johnny Groth, Johnny Lipon, Gerry Priddy and Don Kolloway produced the runs.

It marked the first time the Tigers had been out of first place since June 10.

Boston's Red Sox stormed into third place, a game and a half in front of Cleveland, by whipping the Chicago White Sox, 6-1. It was Boston's 15th win in 16 starts.

Veteran Joe Dobson turned in his 14th victory. Philadelphia's pennant-hungry Phillies increased their lead in the National to six and a half games over Brooklyn. The Phils rallied for three runs in the ninth to come from behind and nip the St. Louis Cardinals, 9-8. Dick Whitman's pinch double with the bases loaded and Jimmy Bloodworth's scoring fly produced the three runs. Jim Konstanty, in his 59th relief appearance, was credited with his 13th victory.

The Chicago Cubs downed the Dodgers, 6-5.

Vern Bickford coasted to his 17th triumph as the Boston Braves pounded out a 9-4 win over Cincinnati.

Sal Maglie pitched the New York Giants to a five-hit, 4-0 shutout over Pittsburgh. It was his eighth straight and his 13th victory against three defeats.

The St. Louis Browns shoved the Philadelphia Athletics into the American league cellar by taking both ends of their doubleheader, 2-1 and 7-6.

DENNY SHUTE WINS
COLUMBUS, O. — The Ohio open golf crown was back on the brow of Denny Shute of Akron today, and it looked natural on the four-time winner. Yesterday he shot a record-equaling 67 and a 69 for a 276 total, 12 under par.

Softball Championships Will Be Settled Tonight

The city softball championship will be settled tonight at Memorial Field at the conclusion of a three-game tournament program.

At seven o'clock the Escanaba Steam Laundry will play Clairmont Transfer in the National League championship game and at 8:15 the Harnischfeger Red Sox will play the Escanaba Paper Mill.

The league winners will play at 9:30 o'clock in the city championship playoff game.

$100 EXPENSES

A resolution to give teams participating in the state softball tournament $100 toward expenses ($50 each if two teams compete) has been proposed as an amendment to the city softball association constitution. Under the proposal, 5% of net receipts (after federal taxes) would be taken from all exhibition games, but not league games, throughout the softball season to comprise the fund.

errors. That was the ball game, although Jug Peterson who relieved Ray Ebbel in the first inning settled down to some good hurling.

The National League games last night were more interesting. Clairmont Transfer defeated Upper Michigan Power and Light, 4-2, on a well pitched game by Joe Sullivan and the Escanaba Steam Laundry defeated St. Thomas 9-3, in the other semi-final.

St. Thomas broke into the lead in the upper half of the seventh but lost it on a rally by the Steam Laundry after two men were out.

Tim And Sally's Win Opening Game

Tim and Sally's scored an easy victory over the St. Joseph Girls in the opening round of the city girls' softball tournament last night at Ludington Park. Tim and Sally's scored nine earned runs in shutting out the St. Joe girls, plus an equal number of unearned runs.

Ruby Stoykovich hit three home runs for the winners.

Tonight the 4-H Service team will play the Farmer's Union at Ludington Park at 6:30 sharp. Both teams must report early, ready to play promptly at 6:30 to avoid darkness.

Redskins Trip Detroit Lions

DALLAS — (AP)—The old pass master, ancient Sammy Baugh, creaked off the bench and pulled one out of the fire last night as the Washington Redskins defeated Detroit, 28-24.

He sparked an 80-yard touchdown drive with three minutes to go in a National football league exhibition before 50,000 fans.

Bobby Lane passed for three touchdowns and Doak Walker kicked a field goal to give Detroit a 24-21 lead early in the fourth period.

Harry Gilmer had done most of the passing for Washington up to that time, with two of his shots bringing touchdowns. Then Baugh, the old Texas Christian star now in his fourteenth season of professional football, pitched a 19-yarder to former Detroit Bill Dudley on the Detroit one-yard line. Bob Goode then ran over the winning touchdown.

Following Fire Equipment Here May Bring Fines

City police today reminded motorists that cars are not allowed to follow any fire apparatus responding to a fire alarm closer than 500 feet, and that cars may not park within 500 feet where fire apparatus has stopped in answer to an alarm.

"A serious traffic hazard is created by cars following fire equipment," G. S. Leonard, safety director, points out. Drivers following or parking closer than 500 feet to fire apparatus will be ticketed by police, Leonard advised today. The safety director also pointed out that ambulances are impeded by congested traffic near the scene of a fire or traffic accident.

Drum Corps Revived In Escanaba Legion

About 15 prospective members of a revived Escanaba American Legion drum and bugle corps held a jam session at the Legion hall last night and arranged to have regular weekly rehearsals, at 7 p. m. on Wednesdays as the corps builds up its roster. Louis Adams took over the job of general chairman for the organization, and Doc Hirn will be publicity chairman.

Coat-hangers served as drumsticks for the martial beats last night, due to the fact that sticks loaned out by the Legion could not be rounded up in time for the meeting. Members of the former girls' Indian corps sponsored by the Legion will be contacted in an effort to recover the drumsticks for the next practice. Manager Adams has asked the help of the former girls corps drummers in rounding up the missing wood.

Road Jobs Suspended For Over Labor Day

LANSING—(P)—Construction work on all state trunklines will be suspended over the Labor Day holiday week-end, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler said today.

The only exceptions, he said, will be emergency cases or on relocations and temporary routes that do not interfere with traffic. Ziegler also urged Michigan motorists to exercise every precaution on the highways over the weekend.

"The driver who takes it easy and watches his own driving as well as the other fellow's, stands a better chance of getting to his destination and home again in safe condition," he said.

But he also suggested "pokey" drivers get off main highways, in order to help prevent traffic snarls.

Services Sunday

GARDEN—Services in the Garden churches Sunday are: St. John the Baptist, masses at 8 and 10; Congregational, Sunday school at 10. Devotions are held at St. John's church every Friday evening at 7:30.

Congregational Service

Rev. Clyde Wilcox, D. D., who with Mrs. Wilcox has been touring the Upper Peninsula, held services at the Congregational church in Garden last Sunday afternoon. Dr. Wilcox is pastor of the Congregational church at St.

John's, Mich.

Patients Return Home

Lawrence Tatrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tatrow, accident victim of the previous week, was brought to his home here Thursday from the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital.

William Stratton was brought by ambulance Thursday night from the University hospital, Ann Arbor, where he had been confined for the past three months. He was seriously injured last year when a woodcutting machine collapsed as he worked near his home at Fayette. The family moved here later.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bernier and three sons of Escanaba visited at the Eugene Bernier sr. home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Baldrika and family of Iron Mountain spent the weekend at the Edward Tatrow home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Tatrow and family of Iron Mountain were weekend guests of the Nelson Tatrows.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Denby and family of Port Huron came Saturday to visit at the Walter Haas home.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Barry and family of Newberry spent the weekend with Mrs. Barry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haas.

Miss Barbara Tarzalli returned to Chicago Sunday after spending the summer at the home of her uncle, William Tarzalli.

Miss Joan Farley and her guests Joy Wilson and Jean Adams of Detroit, were dinner guests at the Joe Farley home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fostbender and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Moran of Marquette were guests of the Frank Morans Sunday.

Mrs. Leo Spencer and daughters left Monday for their home in Elk Rapids after spending the weekend with the Bud Winter family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stellwagen left Monday for Detroit following a visit of two weeks at the home of the former's brother W. Her. Mr. and Mrs. Al Forhart daughter Hazel Mae and Melanie Hazen were guests at the weekend of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bero of Gladstone and report that Mrs. Bero, the former Helen McPhee, was painfully burned when she used her gas stove Saturday. She was taken to St. Francis hospital.

Carroll and Norbert Tatrow and Bernard Bodette have returned from Lower Michigan where they went to seek employment. Mrs. Julia Egert of Nahma came Thursday to spend a week with her daughter, Mrs. Ossie Hazen.
